Asks Stokes Removal, No Ryan Jury May 16

Road Boss Is Accused In Probe

Tompkins Charges Kickbacks Taken

Two new developments in the Ulster County kickback investigation were announced today.

1. Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg notified Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors Ward B. Tongue that the 150 trial jurors summoned for the Morgan D. Ryan bribery case need not report Monday, May 16, pending decision of an appeal before the Appellate Division. Jurors will be notified when their presence is required.

2. Application made for removal of Amos B. Stokes, town superintendent of highways, Marletown, sought by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins.

Second Use of Section 36
Amos B. Stokes is the second town superintendent in the county to be cited for removal from office under the provisions of Section 36 of the Public Officers Law.

Stokes was served today with a copy of a petition under which Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins will seek to have Stokes removed from office on the grounds of "misconduct, maladministration, malfeasance and malversation in office."

Stokes was recently discharged from the hospital where he had been confined by illness.

Hearing Set May 23
The application will be heard by the Appellate Division at Albany Monday, May 23, at 1 p. m. At that time Special Prosecutor Tompkins will ask for an order removing Stokes from office.

Stokes was served with the papers at his High Falls home shortly before noon today.

The first similar proceeding was brought against Paul Mercier of the Town of Esopus.

Stokes assumed office on Jan. 1, 1952, and still holds the office of town superintendent.

Alleges Kickbacks
It is alleged that Stokes "consented and agreed to receive and did receive . . . sums of money as emoluments, gratuities and rewards, commonly referred to as kickbacks from various firms and individuals."

He is specifically charged with receiving $434.89 from Ulster Bituminous Distributors Inc. as kickback on 43,489 gallons of road oil in 1953; $429.44 from the same firm in 1954 for 42,944 gallons of road oil; $588 from Lansdell Company Inc. in 1955 for 58,830 gallons; $601 in 1956 from Lansdell Company Inc. on 60,150 gallons of oil and $200 in 1957 on purchase of 58,500 gallons from Lansdell Company Inc.

Rocky Given Choice Of Convention Jobs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Republican National Committee, in an obvious effort to insure Gov. Rockefeller's enthusiastic participation in the party's presidential campaign, is offering him his choice of the three top nominating convention posts.

A spokesman for the State Republican Committee said Monday night the national committee had "inquired informally" whether Rockefeller would be willing to act as keynote speaker, temporary chairman or permanent chairman of the July convention.

The spokesman said the inquiry was received by State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse but that Morhouse had not yet discussed it with the governor.

Rockefeller, who withdrew in December from contention for the GOP presidential nomination, is vacationing at his estate near Tarrytown.

The governor and the state chairman are expected to talk

SUKARNO CALLS ON CASTRO—President Sukarno of Indonesia (center) chats with Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos (left) and Premier Fidel Castro after Castro's arrival in Havana for a five-day state visit. Castro drummed up a lavish welcome for the first chief of state to visit Cuba since the revolution. Havana was decked with thousands of Cuban and Indonesian flags and illuminated welcome signs.

Triton Covers 36,000 Miles

Traces Magellan Trip In Period of 84 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. nuclear-powered submarine Triton completed today an underwater 36,000-mile trip around the world.

The historic 84-day voyage traced much of the route of the first trip around the globe by the surface ships of Ferdinand Magellan. The Magellan expedition took more than three years in 1519-22. The history-making submerged cruise by the world's biggest submarine was partially broken twice as she girdled the globe.

Transfers Sick Officer
Once off Montevideo, Uruguay, the Triton thrust her superstructure above the surface to transfer a critically ill chief petty officer to the cruiser Macon. She added 2,000 miles to her cruise to make the rendezvous for the crewman, suffering from kidney stones, and fell several days behind schedule.

The vessel, sometimes described as a submerged cruiser or underwater island, came up again on May 2 of Cadiz, Spain, to honor Magellan, who sailed from there on his epochal first round-the-world journey of exploration.

But both times the main part of the ship remained sealed as it submerged.

Receives Medal of Merit
The skipper of the Triton, Capt. Edward L. Beach, was picked up by helicopter off the Delaware coast today and flown to the White House to receive the Medal of Merit from President Eisenhower.

The 42-year-old Beach served as Eisenhower's naval aide for four years.

Has Dual Nuclear Reactor
She is this country's—and presumably the world's—first ship to over the situation within the next few days.

The Republican national committee will decide convention appointments at a meeting next month in Washington. Morhouse is a member of the national committee and of the executive committee on arrangements for the convention.

The state committee spokesman's statement said: "The national committee has inquired informally as to whether Gov. Rockefeller would be receptive to an invitation to be either keynote, temporary chairman or permanent chairman of the convention."

The convention, which opens July 25 in Chicago, is expected to name Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the GOP presidential candidate.

Nixon has had no announced opposition for the presidential nomination since Rockefeller withdrew.

However, some important Republican leaders are expected to talk

Appellate Division Puts Off Decision on Ryan and Mercier

Decision was reserved by the Appellate Division, Supreme Court, Monday afternoon on both the application of Attorney N. LeVan Haver for dismissal of the Morgan O. Ryan bribery indictment and the motion of Attorney Vincent G. Connelly for dismissal of an application to remove Town Superintendent of Highways Paul Mercier from his office in the Town of Esopus.

Calls Evidence Illegal
Haver sought to have the Ryan indictment dropped on the grounds it was based on insufficient and illegal evidence, that evidence given the indicting grand jury was based on leads given when Ryan appeared before another grand jury in violation of his constitutional rights, and that Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins illegally submitted the matter to a second grand jury after the indictment voted by the first grand jury had been dismissed by the Court of Appeals. Based on points of law, Haver asked for dismissal of the bill.

The application of Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins for removal of Town of Esopus Town Superintendent of Highways Paul Mercier was attacked on the grounds the acts complained of are "in fact indictable crimes" and are not within the scope of the Public Officers Law. The authority of the special prosecutor to institute the proceedings to remove Mercier from office was challenged. Connelly told the Appellate court that there had been no presentment by the grand jury, or had the grand jury returned a "no bill."

Says He Denied Kickbacks
Connelly pointed out that Mercier, along with other town superintendents, had been questioned by George H. Chenkin, assistant chief investigator, during the first investigation by Arthur L. Reuter, acting commissioner of investigation, on February 20, 1958, and testimony taken at that time was turned over to Special Prosecutor Tompkins in the current investigation. Mercier in November 1958 signed a waiver and appeared before the special grand jury where he denied taking kickbacks from Ulster Bituminous or Lansdell.

In an affidavit filed with the Appellate Division, Connelly charged that in May 1959, Mercier was before the grand jury and interrogated solely as to how he had certain attorneys appearing for him and in particular as to whether a certain attorney was advising him behind the scenes.

In September 1959, Connelly alleged Mercier had been called to the office of the special prosecutor and questioned as to mat-

Warning Made on New Tries

Norway, Pakistan Envoys Cautioned

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned Monday night that Soviet rockets will shoot down any more spy planes that venture over Soviet soil and his government will take "appropriate counter measures."

The Soviet Premier also warned that Soviet rockets will be turned against bases in any foreign countries that allow American planes to take off on spy missions over the Soviet Union.

Warns of Action
If intelligence missions are continued over Soviet soil, the Premier said in a speech at a Czechoslovakia Embassy reception, "We shall bring down the planes, just bring them down. If such flights are repeated, we shall take appropriate counter measures."

Khrushchev issued a general caution against use of foreign bases for spy missions. After his speech he called over Norwegian and Pakistani diplomats and told them if the United States continues using bases in their countries for operations against the Soviet Union, "We will have to aim our rockets at your bases."

Khrushchev told the Soviet Parliament last week that American flier Francis G. Powers, who was shot down and captured May 1 at Sverdlovsk while on a spying flight, took off from Peshawar, Pakistan, and was heading for Jbodo, Norway.

Deny Knowing of Flight
The United States at first said the plane was based in Turkey. Both Pakistan and Norway have denied any knowledge of Powers' flight, and Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange said he was seeking clarification from Washington. Lange told his Parliament Norwegian air fields are not open to foreign planes which violate the air space of foreign countries.

Khrushchev charged that Powers' flight was timed deliberately to affect next week's summit meeting in Paris.

Sounds Conciliatory Note
Amid his taunts at the U.S. government and his warnings, Khrushchev also sounded a conciliatory note.

"Our strength is being tested," he said. "Therefore, let us not draw conclusions aggravating relations between countries, such conclusions as would hamper us in the future, even, I should like to say, in building good relations with the U.S.A."

"We want to live, not only in peace, but also in friendship with the American people. The American people want no war, I am sure of this."

Khrushchev meanwhile dispatched a note to French President Charles de Gaulle which strengthened the conviction that the Soviet Premier is still looking forward to the summit meeting in the future over the U.S. plane. In the note, Khrushchev expressed hope that the friendly relations established on his recent

Crucial Primary for 1960

Rain Holds Down Early West Virginia Balloting

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A cold, light drizzle over most of the state held down early voting today in West Virginia's crucial presidential primary contest between Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

Polling places that normally have lines of going-to-work voters on hand at the start easily took care of those who struggled in by twos and threes.

Miserable Weather
The weather was miserable. The temperature was in the low 40s, with chilling rain except in the extreme southern area.

Kennedy and Humphrey flew back separately to Washington. But both planned to be back by 7 p. m. to begin the long wait.

Polls opened at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 7:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

It will probably be early Wednesday morning before the winner is known.

Ballots are incredibly long here, where everyone seems to be running for something. Only five of the 55 counties have voting machines. And in most of the 2,750 polling places the counting will be done by hand.

Most of the opinion polls—and we have them by the dozens—have guessed that Humphrey would win, with Kennedy moving up fast at the finish.

Neither candidate sees impressed by these findings.

Close Race: Humphrey
"My own feeling is that we may fool them," Kennedy said.

"I feel that it will be a very close race," Humphrey said. This fits in with an earlier Humphrey observation: "I don't trust polls."

The campaign ended as it began, with both candidates going full speed ahead.

Humphrey lectured local labor leaders for not giving him more support.

"I had hoped," he said, "I might find one union after another endorsing me."

And then Humphrey turned to a favorite theme: That it's tough, in these close primaries to run against the well-to-do Kennedy.

Both Are Fretting
"I have been trying to campaign in West Virginia with a shoestring cut in half," Humphrey said. "I

Police Hold Two For Fur Theft In Poughkeepsie

Accused of participating in a daring burglary and taking furs valued at more than $2,000 from Frank's Fur Shop, 20 Liberty Street, Poughkeepsie, Louis Michael Greico, 30, a salesman of Providence, R. I., was in custody today.

Greico was traced to Providence by Detective Francis Doer and Dominic Frisone, who checked an automobile registration plate spotted on a car used by three men and a woman to make a getaway with the furs on Feb. 28. Greico refused to waive extradition and yesterday in Superior Court a Providence hearing was held and the accused salesman was turned over to Poughkeepsie authorities.

Ex-Czech Aide Says Embassy Half Spies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Czechoslovakian military aide who defected to the West told a House committee his country's embassy staff was about half spies.

In an obvious effort to offset the furor over a U.S. spy plane show down in the Soviet Union, the House Committee on Un-American Activities released the secret testimony Monday.

Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), who is attending a conference in Italy, said in a statement released here the testimony confirms "the overwhelming evidence of widespread Communist espionage on American soil, conducted under the guise of legitimate diplomatic activity."

The testimony was taken at an undisclosed time from Lt. Col.

Illness Is Cited For Wrong Data On Missing Funds

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A former assemblyman, fighting a move to jail him for contempt of court, maintains he did not know what he was saying when he testified that thousands of dollars apparently had been stolen from him.

Harry A. Reoux of Warrensburg, in an affidavit presented to the Appellate Division, third department, Monday claimed he was ill when called to disclose the whereabouts of more than $131,000 from the estate of his mother, Mrs. Adelia H. Reoux of Glens Falls.

Reoux had testified in response to a court order, that thousands of dollars apparently were taken from coffee cans buried in his office basement and additional thousands were stolen on an airplane flight to South America.

The Appellate division reserved decision on a request by the First National Bank of Glens Falls that Reoux be jailed for contempt of court. The bank is executor of Mrs. Reoux's estate.

Reoux allegedly received the $131,000 from the unauthorized sale of stocks and bonds that belonged to his mother.

A State Supreme Court justice found Reoux guilty of civil contempt last year and the Appellate Division ordered him to pay a fine of $99,306, plus interest, or go to jail until he disclosed where the money was located.

Reoux then offered to testify to clear himself of contempt and told the court of the losses.

An attorney for the bank termed the account "fanciful tales about a briefcase on an airplane and coffee cans in the basement."

Reoux's lawyer contended yesterday the court had no power to jail his client.

If Reoux's answers were true, he had complied with the court order; if they were false, Reoux should be prosecuted for perjury or criminal contempt, but not for civil contempt, the attorney said.

Rogers Seeks Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moving quickly under the new Civil Rights Act, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers has asked to inspect voting records in four counties in four Southern states.

In letters to the county registration boards, Rogers said Monday: "This demand is based upon information in the possession of the attorney general tending to show that distinctions on the basis of race or color have been made with respect to registration and voting within your jurisdiction."

The Justice Department said that while thousands of Negroes live in the four counties, none is registered to vote. The counties are McCormick County, S.C., East Carroll Parish, La., Webster County, Ga., and Wilcox County, Ala.

Proper Youth Identification Card

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today asked cooperation of all persons concerned on preventing use of bogus identification cards by youths under 18 in attempts to buy alcoholic beverages.

"It is most important that this practice be stopped," the chief said, and he requests "all parents and tavern keepers to cooperate with police authorities in this most important matter."

All cases of suspected fake identification cards should be reported immediately so that we may investigate and correct this condition," he advised, and noted:

"Authentic cards, which are issued by the city police and sheriff's department, have a seal affixed which partly covers the subject's photograph. This is done so a picture cannot be changed."

"I urge every tavern owner to scrutinize these cards with great care and refuse to serve when you are not convinced that a card is legitimate."

"Too many traffic accidents are being caused by careless and immature drivers. We must protect the lives of our young people, and this is one way of doing it."

be powered by dual nuclear reactors.

Her submerged circumnavigation trip was longer than undersea voyages of the Nautilus, Skate and Sargo in their polar trips which included runs from Hawaii to the Atlantic via the North Pole.

But the Triton, despite her weeks of underwater travel, apparently still did not surpass the submergence endurance record of 60 days set by the submarine Seawolf while cruising in the Atlantic.

Course Not Disclosed
The Navy disclosed Dec. 31 that the Triton was being prepared for what was described only as an extended cruise. The Triton then was in drydock for servicing and checkup at the Groton, Conn., yards of Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. At that time the Navy said the Triton would leave port "early next year"—in 1960.

The course followed by the Triton was reported to lie far from so-called "sensitive territory." On the other hand, the polar trips of the other nuclear subs have taken them to the top of the world, overlooking Russia's mainland.

In the instances of voyages to the Arctic from the Pacific the route passed through Bering Strait where Russian Territory is only a few miles distant.

The Triton is 447 feet long and has a beam of 37 feet. Until the Navy started its Polaris missile submarine program, the Triton was twice as large as any other boat.

She was launched Aug. 19, 1958, and went into commission Nov. 10, 1959.

The Navy estimates the Triton cost 104 million dollars.

Three Narrowly Escape Injury In Village Mishap

Three persons narrowly escaped injury early today when the car in which they were riding went out of control, jumped the curb on John Street, Saugerties, and smashed into the former Derby residence now owned by the village, police reported.

Joyce H. Hommel, 17, of Blue Mountain was driving a two-door sedan owned by her father, Merwin Hommel also of Blue Mountain.

The passengers were Louise O'Bryon of Blue Mountain and Edward Sweeney Jr., of the village.

Patrolman Edward P. Sweeney reported the car was traveling east out of the parking lot at the rear of the municipal building, drove left into John Street, when the car went out of control causing it to continue in a half circle, jump the curb going through a hedge and smashing into the northeast corner of the building. Miss Hommel told police the front wheels of the car locked. Police reported the front end of the car was badly damaged and the cellar window and part of the foundation of the home was forced into the basement.

Fish, Game Club To Aid Planting Of 1,570 Trout

Saugerties Fish and Game Club will aid the State Conservation Department in the distribution of 1,570 brown trout—the last three shipments—in the Plattekill stream Wednesday.

Members participating in the distribution will meet at 11:30 a. m. at Saugerties Municipal Building to accompany the state truck to the planting area.

The club recently purchased 1,000 legal size trout—rainbow, brook and brown—which are expected to arrive for distribution next week.

Game Protector James H. Overbaugh said 930 will also be distributed in the Sawkill stream.

Overbaugh and Carlton B. King, local club trout chairman will supervise the planting in Saugerties.

Mother, Daughter Banquet Tuesday At Mt. Marion

The annual mother and daughter banquet at Plattekill Reformed Church, Mt. Marion will be held in the church hall tonight at 6:30 p. m.

The event is sponsored by the Junior Service League of the church. The men of the church will serve the dinner.

The program following the banquet will include a play, "A Typical Meeting of the Junior Service League," with men of the church in the leading roles, according to the Rev. Henry L. Reinwald, pastor.

Roadblock Haul Gets Man With Phony License

William H. Pullman, 24, of Flatbush Road was apprehended Monday in a routine state police roadblock on Route 9W and was remanded to Ulster County Jail when unable to pay fines totaling $145 on four charges before Saugerties Town Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers.

Pullman was charged by Troopers W. Cameron and David Wachtel with driving an unregistered and uninsured vehicle, driving with fabricated and altered license plates and for failure to note change of address on registration.

A $100 fine or 30 days in jail was imposed for driving an uninsured vehicle, and $45 or 45 days on the three other charges.

The roadblock also produced Robert Reynolds, 22 of Simmons Street, arrested by Trooper Wachtel. He paid a $5 fine for driving a vehicle with the driver's view obstructed.

Priscilla Martin, 29, of Mountain View Park paid a $10 fine for driving with an expired operator's license.

Jury Dismissed For Deadlock in Narcotics Trial

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A federal court jury in a narcotics trial was dismissed early today after it reported that it was hopelessly deadlocked.

Joseph A. Moses, 35, of Buffalo, and his wife, Rose, 30, were on trial on charges of conspiracy to smuggle and sell heroin.

Judge John O. Henderson did not say when, or if, he would set a date for a new trial.

The case was submitted to the jury Monday afternoon after a seven-day trial. Jury Foreman Gilbert E. Mc Elheny of Grand Island told Judge Henderson the jury had maintained the same position since early afternoon.

One juror said the first vote had been 11-1 for conviction of Moses but had changed to 10-2. He said the jury was unanimously for the acquittal of Mrs. Moses.

Fourteen other suspects indicted with the Moses couple still face trial. Moses also is under indictment on 1,287 other counts in a record federal indictment returned Feb. 3.

Albert Moreton Jr., 34, pleaded guilty before the trial to charges of smuggling and selling heroin, and conspiracy. He was the government's key witness in the Moses' trial.

$4,990 Unearthed As Land Is Dug For Coast Church

LA PUENTE, Calif. (AP)—They broke ground for a new church—and struck money.

The site of the Glengrove Assembly of God congregation's new church, it turned out, was a five-acre trove of buried treasure—almost $5,000.

It started last February when a bulldozer blade tipped over an old orange tree, and uprooted a mason jar. Three children following the bulldozer pounced on it.

Inside was $3,840 in currency and coin.

A few days later another search found another jar containing $300.

The congregation then held an impromptu treasure hunt—and, in two days, found eight jars containing $850.

"Now," said Arthur Jensen, secretary of the congregation, "we're just waiting to find out if we can keep it."

The church, it seems, can lay claim to the $850 found by members of the congregation. And the other finders, including the children's parents, are claiming the remainder, neither the children nor their parents are members of the church.

"The daughter of the previous owner of the land also has claimed it," said Jensen. "She says it was buried by her father."

The sheriff's office has advised all claimants who hold money found in the lot to do just that—hold it. The congregation's $850, earmarked for the building fund, is in a safe deposit box.

Ones That Got Away Bother Soviet Boss

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—But what about the ones that got away?

This must be on Premier Nikita Khrushchev's mind at the very moment he is patting himself on the back with the claim of shooting down an American spy-plane over the Soviet Union.

It was an event which, for various reasons, shocked the world. But this event, because of Khrushchev's propaganda genius and our own State Department's clumsiness, has been blown far out of its true proportions, and for this reason:

Good Propaganda
Soviets spy on this country, this country spies on the Soviet Union. This time an American plane was caught doing it. Other times Soviet agents were caught here.

The only real achievement in all this was the propaganda use Khrushchev made of it. Yet, if the truth were known, he probably suffered a shock himself.

Monday Christian A. Herter, secretary of state, admitted this country for years has been sending spy-planes along the edges of the Communist world and sometimes deep into it, too.

This doesn't make the Soviet military look good. While Khrushchev can boast of one American plane knocked out of the skies, others for years were able to fly in over the Soviet Union, fulfill a spy mission, and get away untouched.

Monday night Khrushchev revealed "we took to task" some of the Soviet military who, he said, let a chance slip by to shoot down another American plane which he said was over Communist territory April 9.

Timing Awfully Bad
But it was the American government which presented Khrushchev with his propaganda chance for catching just one spy-plane on the job.

In the first place, the timing of the plane's mission over the Soviet Union was appallingly bad. It was sent on its mission just a few days before President Eisenhower was to meet Khrushchev at the summit in Paris. They meet Monday.

There was the chance the plane would be nailed, with all that involved. It was nailed and it enabled Khrushchev to point to this country as a treacherous antagonist at the moment Eisenhower was getting ready for the summit. Then Khrushchev ran into a better bargain: This government, apparently assuming the pilot was dead and Khrushchev couldn't prove anything, put out a feeble explanation: That maybe the pilot had lost consciousness for lack of oxygen and was carried over the Soviet Union by his unguided plane.

Lie Is Bared
The State Department also tried something else which, as the department itself demonstrated later, was a lie. It said there was never any "attempt to deliberately violate Soviet air space." Khrushchev was waiting for something like this. He moved in. He announced the spy-plane pilot, Francis G. Powers, had been captured and admitted spying.

Caught flat-footed, the State Department tried to alibi its way out. It admitted Powers might have been spying but that "insofar as the authorities in Washington are concerned there was no authorization for any such flight described by Mr. Khrushchev."

This raised immediate questions here and abroad: What goes on here? Doesn't Eisenhower know? Were military leaders or others carrying out spying without his knowledge or approval?

So the department had to clean this one up to show Eisenhower was in command. Herter said Monday American planes, under Eisenhower's general directives to gather information by every possible means, have carried out spy missions around and over the Soviet Union, although Eisenhower didn't authorize specific missions.

Details Up to Others
All this really meant was that while Eisenhower approved the spying in general he left it to others to carry out the details.

But—remembering all the spying being carried out by the Soviet Union, past and present—if Khrushchev tries to get too self-righteous about this case, Eisenhower can say to him: Look who's talking.

$6½ Million Is Loaned to Student Under State Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The New York Higher Assistance Corp. reported today it has guaranteed nearly 6½ million dollars in loans to needy college students.

The 1958 Legislature created the corporation to help students obtain funds to complete their higher education.

Under the corporation program, students apply to banks for loans in the regular manner. The students agree to repay the funds after graduation.

The corporation guarantees repayment of loans of eligible students. If the youths default, the corporation makes good.

The guarantee of the state-backed agency allows banks to make the loans at relatively low interest rates.

Ralph F. Peo, chairman of the assistance corporation, said in making his report that students had an excellent record in repayment. So far, 11,086 loans have been guaranteed.

Peo noted that the 1960 Legislature had authorized savings banks to participate in the program. He said that, while a majority of commercial banks in the state were participating in the program, the corporation welcomed the added source of loans.

TWA Jet Lands on Belly; None of 109 Serious

NEW YORK (AP)—The landing gear of a Trans World Airlines jet with 109 persons aboard collapsed in landing Monday, and the four-engine plane skidded 2,000 feet amid smoke and flames. No one was seriously hurt.

The 100 passengers and nine crew members scrambled through emergency exits and down escape chutes moments after the 5½-million-dollar Boeing 707 ground to a halt on its belly.

Capt. Henry Campbell of Los Angeles, pilot of the nonstop flight from Los Angeles, said he was coming in for a normal landing when the nose wheel collapsed.

Now... for Men and Women Over 65

A hospital and surgical plan that is guaranteed renewable for life!

Here's a SENIOR CITIZEN plan that gives you maximum benefits per premium dollar. This Nationwide plan provides these important benefits:

1. Daily room and board expenses for confinement in a hospital...and in a convalescent or nursing home. Total benefits may run as high as $300.
2. In-hospital miscellaneous expenses. Under this feature of the SENIOR CITIZEN plan Nationwide pays for 100% of the first $100 and 80% of the next $250. In other words, if your in-hospital expenses (covered by the plan) total $350, Nationwide pays $300, you pay $50. Items covered include anesthesia, X-ray, laboratory charges, drugs, medicines.
3. Other benefits: In addition to liberal coverage for surgery, Nationwide gives you these two important coverages: Benefits for visits by your physician to the hospital (for accident or sickness) and emergency out-patient expenses. In addition, the SENIOR CITIZEN policy is guaranteed renewable. This means you're sure of the above coverages as long as you live. For the full details at no obligation, mail coupon below to the nearest Nationwide office listed.

CARS magazine reports The Lark is the best overall buy among all 23 American automobiles...including all other compacts.

BEST... After judging The Lark—"the Best of the Compacts"—the editors of CARS enlarged their enthusiasm and declared The Lark, "The Best Overall Buy." Here's how they summed up their expert opinion in the June issue of CARS:

MANY REASONS... "There are many reasons for this choice, but the primary one is that The Lark will do anything and go anywhere the larger cars will, at a lower cost. ... The Lark is styled for both today and tomorrow, and engineered for hard, economical use. ... On any basis, this is a tough car to beat."

FREE COPY... Pick up your free copy of CARS buyer's guide at your Studebaker Dealer's. Make your own rugged comparison test and you, too, will love that Lark.

With five of the six compacts, you have to compromise... but with The Lark, there's no compromise on selection, roominess, performance or luxury.

COMMUNITY CONCERT

It gives us a great deal of personal pleasure as well as a sense of comradeship in the arts to be able to announce the annual Kingston Community Concert Association membership campaign week, May 8 to 14. For almost thirty years our local concert group has been contributing to the cultural enrichment of our community by bringing the best artists of the day to Kingston.

John D. Rockefeller, 3rd, president of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, spoke of a "cultural explosion" recently at a meeting in the Waldorf-Astoria. "My own studied conclusion," he said, "is that today creative fulfillment is as important to man's well-being and happiness as his need for better physical health was fifty years ago."

Most remarkable of all, he noted, "Americans now spend more money every year to attend concerts than to watch professional baseball."

Memberships in the Kingston Community Concert Association next season will afford three outstanding musical evenings with performances by the Boston Opera Company in Puccini's "La Boheme," duo pianists, Gold and Fildale, and Jerome Hines, popular basso of the Metropolitan Opera, radio and TV Shows.

Everyone is invited to join by enrolling with any of 80 workers or at headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily and before noon Saturday.

European royalty may decline to attend Princess Margaret's wedding to a commoner, but this assures her a whopping cheering section of common folks.

THE CLOUD MAKER

It is the Russians, not we, who have suddenly put a cloud upon prospects for the May 16 summit meeting.

Shooting down an unarmed U. S. weather reconnaissance plane that had strayed over Soviet soil from Turkey was bad enough in itself. But the Kremlin has chosen to picture the incident as an act of aggression, and to threaten the United States with rocket reprisals.

Furthermore, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declares there is now "little hope" of real success at the summit.

All this suggests that the Russians want it just this way.

To begin with, they know full well that we reconnoiter the fringe areas adjacent to the Soviet Union on all sides. Soviet planes do the same.

They understand, too, that navigational error can at any time lead a reconnaissance plane over the border. In such instances they might be justified in forcing the errant aircraft down, to establish identity if that is in doubt, and to inflict reasonable penalty for the mistake.

To shoot down a straying plane is both brutal and unnecessary.

To assert that its wanderings are "aggressive" is to make something out of nothing, to see peril where there is none.

When such a course is followed, we Americans can only conclude that the Kremlin's desire for peace is not even skin deep. If it were, Khrushchev would not be even mildly upset by the "menace" of one off-course, unarmed weather plane.

The only alternative explanation for his unjustified behavior is that he is a prisoner of his own propaganda, that he really believes the United States has aggressive designs upon Russia.

If this is his genuine belief, then Khrushchev has not learned much from his travels. Moreover, he may be incapable of learning. For the evidence is plain enough, for any man with clear eyes and an undrugged brain, that the United States wants no part of war with the Soviet Union or anybody else.

If, however, he thoroughly grasps this, then the newest weather plane incident means that he does not want the summit to achieve anything, and seeks in advance to blame the United States for its failures.

NIXON'S FLIGHT

No political personality has ever quite found himself in the awkward position that is Richard Nixon's at the present time. Already the Republican candidate for the Presidency—there being no other—he cannot declare himself on current or external issues with good grace until after the Republican Convention. Were he to oppose the policies of the Administration, it would be bad form; were he to sing hosannas to the works of President Eisenhower and his Cabinet, he would be regarded as a fulsome toad; were he to present a program of his own, he would be criticized for embarrassing the President.

In a word, Richard Nixon walks a tight-rope. Yet life and time move on. Events occur every day concerning which all candidates are questioned by sharp newspapermen and others. Nixon is not as free as John Kennedy or any other Democrat to say what he minds to say, because he is still Vice President of the United States, a member of the Eisenhower Administration. Actually he may hold to the views and policies of his President but he cannot be bound to them during a campaign because Mr. Eisenhower tends to shift like desert dunes and he is hard to keep up with, as the saying goes.

To remain silent until after the convention, as some counsel Nixon, is impossible advice. The course of events will not permit a candidate to be silent. Not to be silent could be dangerous because he might put his foot in his mouth. To devote himself "to quips and jests and wanton wiles" could make him appear to be ridiculous. Nixon has a natural sense of humor and a very keen wit. He can throw them in the aisles like a professional, but does that help him appear to be a mature man ready for the Presidency? Will our people vote for a humorist or do they prefer a stiff and stolid bellower of platitudes?

The word has gone forth that Nixon is slipping and then came the Indiana popularity vote which showed that he has not slipped. The Indiana vote does not prove that Nixon can or cannot be elected. It does show that he has not slipped in Indiana.

These whispering campaigns about slipping cannot be trusted. How does one measure whether a candidate has slipped or not in May for a November election? Realistically, there is no way to do it and no practical politician pays attention to so-called polls at this stage. It will not be until September is well advanced that any real sentiment will be manifested and that will be after the Summit Conference has come and gone.

Soviet Russia on October 1, will, in some manner, go on the gold standard, minting a gold rouble probably for world-wide distribution. At the moment of writing this, I have not seen a copy of the new currency law, but it is presumed from what has been reported that this will mean a 30 per cent gold coverage for the Russian rouble. This is a larger coverage than the American dollar now enjoys. It could make the Russian rouble the hard currency of the world, surely of Asia and Africa.

The effect of this Russian decision must affect the thinking of the Summit Conference this month and the announcement must have been made to give the Westerners the shivers. What effect it will have upon the election is not foreseeable at this moment.

Again Nixon's position is different from that of any other candidate for the Presidency. Whereas the Democrats may be very critical of the Administration which is so often caught off base, Nixon cannot say that or anything. The day after he is actually nominated is the first day that he can freely speak up. Until then he must with good grace trail along with the Eisenhower errors of judgment for many of which his Secretary of State, Christian Herter, is to blame.

One result of this enforced silence is that Richard Nixon is changing his facade in order to win Liberal votes. A man cannot change his public image in the midst of a campaign without throwing himself so out of focus that he becomes a distorted object. In some instances, silence may be golden; in Nixon's case, it only loses votes which he will have to fight hard to regain.

How, Why Ivy and Sumac Attack Only Some Persons

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Contact dermatitis is a strange or allergic reaction that occurs when certain substances, such as the sap of plants like ivy or sumac, come in contact with the skin surfaces of certain hypersensitive or allergic persons.

In most text books of dermatology, the resultant itching, weeping rash is called dermatitis venenata. But this label is both highfalutin and incorrect since the causative substance is usually not poisonous (venenata).

Let's see what happens when a hypersensitive person gets an attack of poison ivy.

Suppose we sent our kids off to a picnic in the woods.

Let's say that yours are completely normal and mine have inherited an allergic constitution from their mother or from me.

They go off to pick flowers and get into a patch of ivy. Either they don't see or don't recognize the green pointed leaves each of whose three leaflets has notched borders.

Each of the youngsters gets a certain amount of leaf sap on legs and hands.

The "police officers" you've provided for the defense of your child's skin give the sap a brush-off just as a bank guard might send a loiterer on his way.

But the cops I've provided for my pride and joy get into a hassle with the loiterers. And, in the course of this encounter, a certain amount of a substance called histamine is given off.

Now this histamine is powerful stuff. It irritates the skin enough to set the child scratching. With each scratch a certain amount of it is spread around and dug into the skin.

When it gets near blood capillaries, it makes them dilate like they do when you blush. And when they dilate, a certain amount of the fluid that should be kept within their walls seeps out.

The result of all this is the familiar eruption of poison ivy. The area is raised in a sort of hive. It's red and it's itchy.

When it's scratched, it gets redder and itchier. And when the skin is finally rubbed off or broken, the rash looks moist and it's spoken of as a "weeping eczema."

I have no idea how many million people suffer from poison ivy. But when you realize that hypersensitivity to plant sap is only one of many different varieties of contact dermatitis, you get some intimation of the problem's extent.

One woman in 10 is sensitive to hair dye, nail polish, face powder, soap, perfume or some other cosmetic.

Another group reacts to synthetic fabrics, furs, garters, leather belts, handbags, wrist watch bands and other articles of clothing.

Some housewives develop "dishpan hands" from sensitivity to soap, detergents, cleaning fluids, fungicides and pesticides.

Consider the kids with acne whose eruption has been complicated by a bad reaction to some complex lotion or ointment.

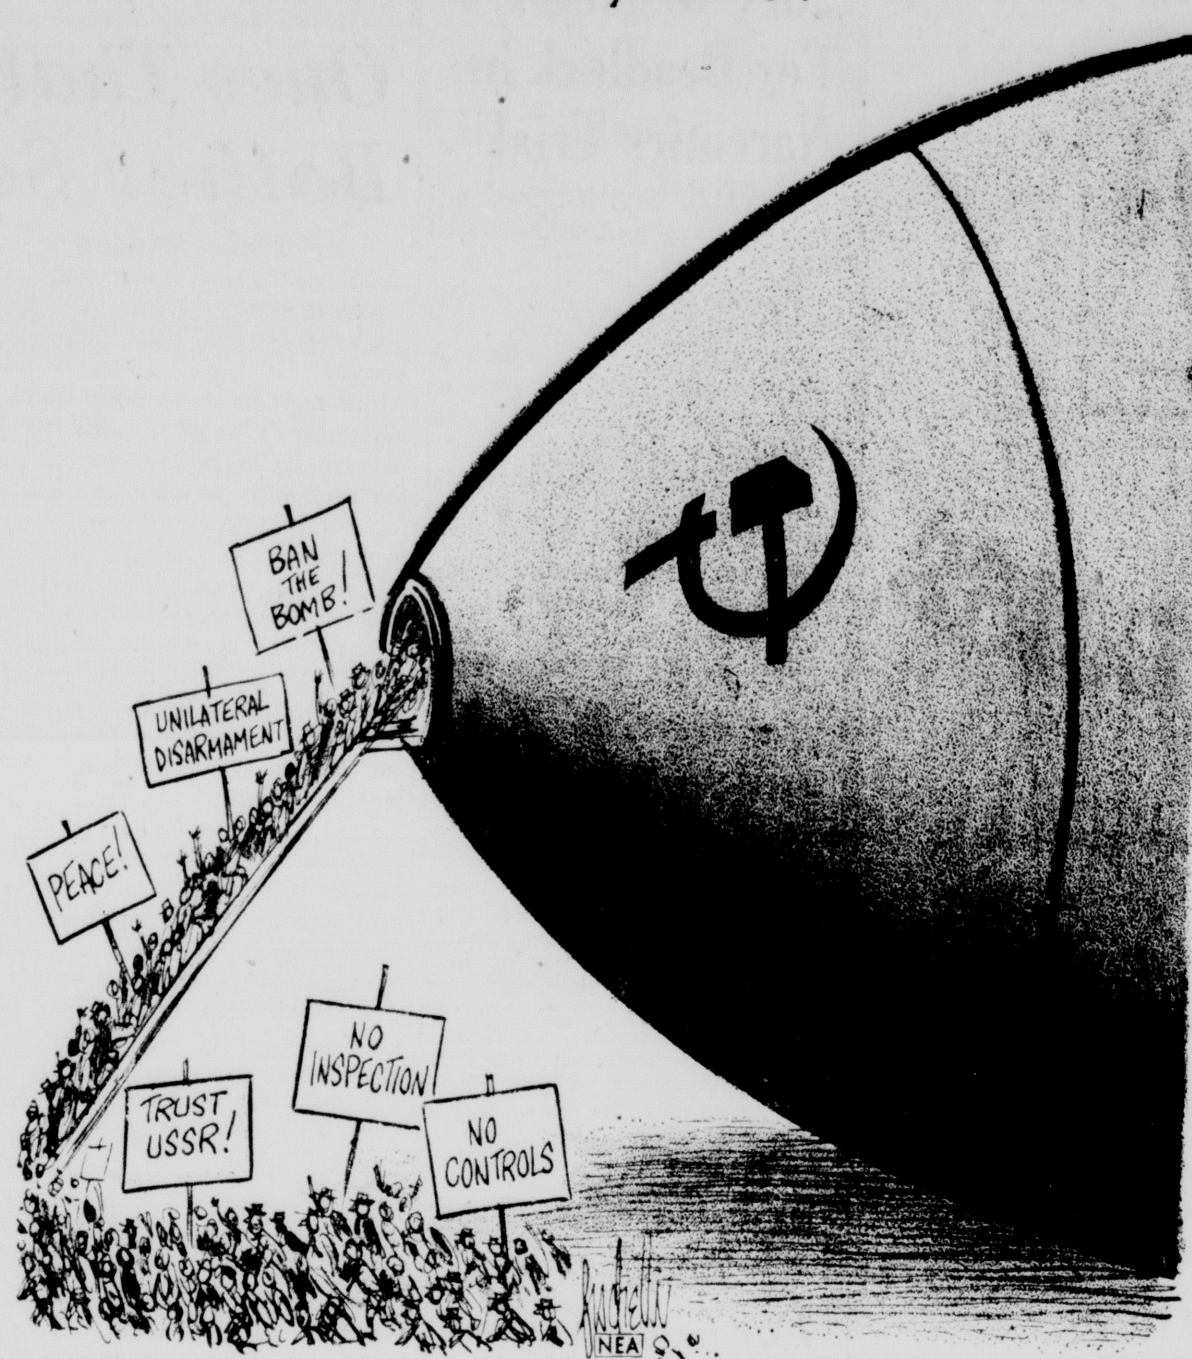

The hands of some dentists break out when they use a certain brand of local anesthetic. Nurses' fingers are a mess from streptomycin solution.

Many workers have had to quit their jobs because of reactions from substances used in their industry.

And maybe you remember poor Yogi Berra who had to wear cotton gloves at bat and behind the plate last year because of some sort of contact dermatitis.

I'll have more to say about these histamine-type reactions.

WASHINGTON, (NEA) —

Eisenhower administration policy on inflation has gone through a curious witcheroo here of late.

Since Vice President Nixon has been in charge of the anti-inflation department for the past year and a half, it may have some bearing on his presidential campaign.

What seems to have happened is that the threat of inflation—ballyhooed all through 1959—never developed.

Consequently, the vice president—instead of being built up as the warrior leading the fight against inflation—can now be hailed as the conquering candidate who defeated it.

A search of the records, however, fails to reveal just what the Nixon committee did to lick inflation.

It didn't even do anything about building up a better understanding of the problems.

This was one of the three principal things it was supposed to do.

The other two were:

(a) Study the problem of how to maintain reasonable price stability and economic growth, and

(b) Study the factors that will help prevent price increases.

THIS NIXON COMMITTEE—the Cabinet Committee on Price Stability and Economic Growth, to give it the full handle—was named by President Eisenhower, January 1959.

Its other members included Secretaries of Treasury (Anderson), Agriculture (Benson), Labor (Mitchell), Commerce (Strauss)—later Mueller, and Postmaster General Summerfield.

A University of Chicago economist, Dean W. Allen Wallis, was imported to run the committee and do the work.

From the first it became apparent that Dean Wallis wasn't very scared about inflation. His primary concern was in promoting economic growth. Price stability was just a means to that end, in his opinion.

He nevertheless set forth boldly on a program.

The one laid out by the dean called for eight to 10 public education statements on the evils of inflation.

These were to be followed by a series of reports.

Finally, a series of public hearings were to come.

WELL, THEY DID issue three statements (that made no particular impact). The hearings never materialized.

There was a first report last June. It emphasized that there is no easy way to control inflation. But it said the government would use all appropriate means to protect the dollar.

By the time the steel strike came along, however, even this pretense was abandoned.

The word went out that a steel wage increase and even a steel-price rise — by themselves — could not be inflationary. For inflation to develop there would have to be a whole series of rises.

So the steel strike settlement finally negotiated — with Vice President Nixon playing a leading role, behind the scenes — postpones the wage increases till December 1960 and October 1962.

IF MR. NIXON SHOULD BE elected president and this develops into inflation, the joke will be on him.

If a Democrat is elected, the fault will obviously be with the administration then in power.

The Nixon Cabinet Committee on Price Stabilization and Economic Growth recently issued its second report.

It says that, "Inflation has been effectively curbed during the past year, and substantial progress has been made in checking inflation during the past eight years."

The report also notes that the cost of living index has gone up 11 per cent in the past eight years.

That's the way the government has defeated increasing costs.

NEW YORK (AP) — How did you observe the 15th anniversary of the ending of the second World War in Europe?

Did you beat on a tin pail? Did you blow a whistle or toot the horn on your car? Did you stay up all night celebrating?

Nobody did any of these things in our neighborhood. Nobody even mentioned the event which only a decade and a half ago caused such global joy.

New Perils Show Up

Somehow, 15 years later, there didn't seem so much to cheer about. The earth has spun on in the intervening decade and a half to new worries and fresh perils.

The occasion only pointed up anew an old truth: There is as yet no final safety or security for any people in this troubled world.

We live at such a dizzy pace now that today seems almost obsolete before tomorrow dawns.

The first World War has all but disappeared into the oblivion of history; the second World War rapidly is doing the same thing. All the great captains of that second mighty conflict have passed from political power except President Eisenhower and Charles de Gaulle of France, and Eisenhower retires this year.

Can't Recall Strife

This September will mark the 21st anniversary of Adolf Hitler's invasion of Poland. A new generation has arisen since then, a whole new generation of young men and women who have no really active memory of that war—although they must pay the yet unpaid price of its aftermath, and solve its yet unsolved problems.

What has happened in the 15 years since the German armed forces put down their arms in unconditional surrender?

We have seen the creation of a United Nations dedicated to the task of universal peace.

'Blessing in Disguise' Seen In Downing of U. S. Plane

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The shooting down of the American plane over the Soviet Union may yet prove to be a blessing in disguise.

For it could mean that at last the whole world will be awakened to the danger of a surprise attack that might be ordered by the Soviet rulers. The episode could force an international agreement for aerial inspection that would aid the cause of disarmament.

At first, it seemed that the State Department had erred by admitting that an American plane had been taking pictures over Soviet Russia. But the incident now helps to focus attention on what has been done and can be done by aerial photography—by satellites as well as high-altitude planes.

Francis Powers was only about 12,000 feet in the air, but planes of the type he was piloting can travel five times that height. Indeed, the United States is building a satellite that can photograph places inside Russia from a height of several hundreds of miles. Golf balls on a golf course have been photographed from a height of nearly six miles in the air. The Russians have had satellites crossing the United States. What they might have photographed in this way and by balloons has not been disclosed. But the belief is growing that Moscow has learned about the remarkable plans the United States has in preparation for effective picture-making high in the skies and doesn't like the outlook. Hence the furor raised over the plane.

Needed Preparations
But with a surprise attack by missiles being a matter of minutes—some say only twenty minutes—it is essential to the safety of the United States that Soviet missile bases be accurately located in advance so that air channels can be patrolled and counter-measures prepared to resist surprise attack.

On April 29, a formal report of the House Committee on Appropriations said:

"In the final analysis, to effectively deter a would-be aggressor, we should maintain our armed forces in such a way and with such an understanding that should it ever become obvious that an attack upon us or our allies is imminent, we can launch an attack before the aggressor has hit either us or our allies. This is an element of deterrence which the United States should not deny itself. No other form of deterrence can be fully relied upon."

This is not a new subject to the military and intelligence folks, but it is new to most people. Actually, President Eisenhower at the last "summit" conference in Geneva made the following declaration, dated July 21, 1955:

"I propose that we take a practical step, that we begin an arrangement, very quickly, as between ourselves — immediately. These steps would include:

"To give to each other a complete blueprint of our military establishments; from beginning to end, from one end of our countries to the other, lay out the establishments and provide the blueprints to each other.

"Only a Beginning"

"Next, to provide within our countries facilities for aerial photography to the other country—we to provide you the facilities within our country, ample facilities for aerial reconnaissance, where you can make all the pictures you choose and take them to your own country to study, you to provide exactly the same facilities for us and we to make these examinations, and by this step to convince the world that we are providing as between ourselves against the possibility of great surprise attack, thus lessening danger and relaxing tensions.

"Likewise we will make more easily attainable a comprehensive and effective system of inspection and disarmament, because what I propose, I assure you, would be a beginning.

"The United States is ready to proceed in the study and testing of a reliable system of inspections and reporting, and, when that system is proved, then to reduce armaments with all others to the extent that the system will provide assured results.

"The successful working out of such a system would do much to develop the mutual confidence which will open wide the avenues of progress for all our peoples."

Science has progressed rapidly since Khrushchev rejected the Eisenhower proposal in 1955. America now is way ahead in the technique of aerial photography. The Soviet know it and are scared. This may have been one of the reasons why they raised such a fuss about an unarmed photographic plane, that they themselves have used balloons and other devices to photograph sites on American territory.

The United States is ahead of Russia in weather satellites, communications satellites and photographic satellites, all of which open up new vistas in the field of military science.

America's purpose is to guard against surprise attack. Moscow may have played into America's hands by dramatizing the fate of a single pilot in an unarmed plane obviously engaged only in a photographic mission.

President Eisenhower now has a great opportunity to revive his "open skies" proposal and to put the Soviets on the spot once more if they refuse to negotiate. For certainly America isn't going to stop photographing from way up in the skies if the Soviets refuse to agree to a plan of aerial inspection which sets up new principles of international law. ## Rocky Proclaims CC Week May 16, Program Planned

Chamber of Commerce Week has been proclaimed by Governor Rockefeller for the week of May 16 in New York State, which will be observed on a state-wide basis under sponsorship of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce and State Chamber of Commerce executives.

Four principal objectives or purposes of the Chamber of Commerce Week, have been outlined. They are: (1) To create a public awareness and understanding of the purpose and need for a local Chamber of Commerce; (2) To give recognition to the volunteer leaders for their constructive participation in community affairs; (3) To further strengthen relations and agencies in our community; and (4) To create a stronger bond of friendship within the community.

Chamber of Commerce Week affords an official designated period to tell the story of the role local Chambers of Commerce play in the economic, educational, social and cultural development of the community.

In Kingston one feature of Chamber of Commerce Week will be a special orientation meeting for all new members as well as the "Minutemen" who worked on the drive last week and all other interested members. It will take place at 8 p. m. on Wednesday, May 18 in the Governor Clinton Hotel. The meeting will be conducted by Chamber President Norman L. McLeod. Speakers will include a representative of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce and local committee chairman.

"The continuing expansion of business in this State is in the broadest public interest and a matter of direct personal concern to every one of our citizens," the Governor said. "Where commerce and industry grow and prosper, employment opportunities thrive for all our people, and these, in turn, make possible the standard of living which is our way of life."

The Governor said the Chamber of Commerce is a "dynamic symbol of our country, businessmen at work together for their neighbors, their communities and their state."

He noted in the proclamation that the Chamber of Commerce of New York State have an enviable record of successful effort in helping to bring about an improved business climate conducive to business expansion and to the attraction of new industry.

"There has been an invaluable contribution to the continuing prosperity of the Empire state," he said.

The Governor called upon the people of the state to join in the observance of the occasion.

Ft. Laramie in Wyoming was established in 1834 to control the fur trade between rival Indian tribes.

"Why don't you go on television, so I can shut you off?"

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Montgomery, once the most debaucher of Hollywood film heroes and more recently a TV producer and actor, has a very simple explanation for the current low state of television programs.

"You can't mass-produce entertainment," he says.

And although Montgomery professes the greatest admiration for the medium itself, he's postponing a return to TV.

"I'd be interested in coming back," the slim graying actor admits. "But only if I have the right — the freedom — to produce shows, sponsored or unsponsored over a network. That means a network now in existence—or in existence in the future on a subscription basis — and without being placed in a competitive position with shows produced by the networks themselves."

Montgomery feels that the networks control television too tightly and that shoddy quality results because they are unable to produce good hour-long dramatic shows.

Montgomery has turned to motion pictures—as producer and director of "The Gallant Hours." And it is as a moviemaker that he suddenly is popping up all over the TV screen—from Jack Paar to next Sunday's Ed Sullivan Show. Why? To plug his movie of course.

Meanwhile, he hopes that subscription TV will come and come soon.

"I think it will be terribly healthy," he adds. "And I think the reason the commercial networks are fighting it so hard is that they are afraid it will be successful."

To Award $500 For Best Easter Seal Design Entry

CHICAGO — A nationwide competition to find the design for future Easter Seals was announced today by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Easter Seal Society.

A $500 award will be presented to the artist creating the winning design. The competition is open to all artists, including students. May 31 is the deadline for the 1960 Easter Seal contest, and artwork is to be submitted to the 1960 Easter Seal Contest, the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 2023 West Ogden Avenue, Chicago 12, Ill.

Designs should be bold and yet simple so that they make an immediate impression. They should be at least eight inches by 6½ inches and can be either horizontal or vertical.

Copy within the seal should be brief and legible and must be compatible with the over-all design. The date of the seal should appear within the design, but need not be prominent, and all submitted designs must include only two basic colors. Complete specifications on the Easter Seal design are contained in a folder that can be secured by writing to the National Society.

The artist whose design wins the award will receive nationwide publicity, and he will receive his award at the annual national convention of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Heat Service School Set for Wednesday

A heating service school will hold its initial session at the Kingston Vocational School building at 7 p. m. on Wednesday night, May 11.

The school, sponsored by the New York State Fuel Merchants' Association, in co-operation with the Hudson Valley Fuel Dealers' Association, is open to any person now engaged in servicing heating equipment or who may wish to enter that field. The school is held under the auspices of the Adult Education program of the Kingston (Consolidated) School District.

The sessions, on heating installations, theory of combustion and combustion testing, fuel pumps, and heating controls, will be taught by a faculty of experts furnished by the heating industry. The course is designed to keep local heating service personnel abreast of the many advances and improvements in the home heating field.

The two-hour sessions, 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., except on the first night will be held on the successive Wednesdays and Thursdays of May 11, 12, 18, 19, 25, 26th and June 1.

Initial registration will take place at 7 p. m. Wednesday night in Room V-110 of the Vocational Building.

Language Study Slated Thursday At Paltz College

A language arts workshop will be held by Mid-Hudson School Study Council at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, on Thursday.

The theme of the workshop will be "Quality in the Language Arts," and teachers representing some 45 school systems in the Mid-Hudson area are expected to attend.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. Margaret Early, associate director of the Reading Clinic at Syracuse University, who will speak on "Improving Quality in Language Arts." Dr. Early is the author of several articles and monographs on the teaching of reading and is one of the editors of the "Reading for Enjoyment" series published by Houghton Mifflin Company. She supervises student teachers in the pre-service program and was formerly in charge of the diagnostic and remedial services of the Reading Center.

Beginning with registration at 2 p. m., various workshop groups are scheduled throughout the afternoon. The workshop topics include: Reading Readiness, Listening Skills, Developing Sound Study Skills, Individualized Reading, Oral Reading as a Means of Speech Improvement, and Vocabulary Enrichment.

Spy Trips Made To Protect Free World: Herter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has acknowledged sending spy planes inside the Soviet Union occasionally as part of "extensive aerial surveillance" designed to protect the Free World from surprise attack.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter reported the practice Monday after briefing congressional leaders on developments since the Soviets claim to have shot down a U.S. plane deep in Soviet territory May 1.

"The United States has not and does not shrink this responsibility," Herter said, leaving the implication—not discouraged by the State Department—that such flights might be continued until Soviet secrecy is relaxed.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev took note Monday night of an earlier State Department statement which mentioned Soviet secrecy in explaining the May 1 flight.

Khrushchev called it "a very dangerous explanation" because he said it tries to justify and does not denounce such flights.

Washington awaited an official Soviet response—not propaganda utterances—to its note of last Friday asking for full facts from the Soviet inquiry into the incident.

Then the U.S. Embassy in Moscow was expected to follow up by asking to see Francis G. Powers, the downed American pilot who Khrushchev claims has confessed to a planned spy flight across the Soviet Union from Pakistan to Norway.

U.S. officials watched to see whether the Soviet boss would try to stir the incident to a crescendo—perhaps by a spectacular show such as a press conference with Powers or a public trial—and thus heighten tension to the point of wiping away chances for success at the summit parley.

Herter and Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, reported to congressional leaders of both parties at a hurriedly called, secret briefing session Monday while Eisenhower was meeting with his top strategy group, the National Security Council.

He said the reason for the U.S. flights—though they clearly violate international law—is the menace of surprise attack from the Soviet Union.

Zoning Hearings Set

Zoning board hearings are slated for the city court room, city hall, Wednesday at 8 p. m. They will be on an application by John A. Sepsey for permission to build a three-car garage on a property at 4 Larch Street; on the bid of Hazel DePola to restrain the use of a property at 119 Glen Street, for storage of cars, and for a determination on the petition of Joseph Scott, 321 Lucia Avenue, as to whether The Bride's Shoppe, 116 Hurley Avenue, said to be a residential area, is a zoning violation.

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A dress made by high school senior Justine Smith, 19, who died Wednesday, won first prize in the fancy dress division of a state contest.

The Galveston girl died of a rheumatic heart condition. Results of the 26th State Industrial Education Conference contest held Friday and Saturday were learned Monday.

Williams Taking Higher School Job In Dutchess Area

Supervising Principal Roscoe L. Williams, of the Red Hook Central School District for the last 12 years, has been appointed superintendent of the Dutchess County Supervisory School district.

He will assume his new duties on Aug. 26, the day after Superintendent Milo F. Winchester, Millerton, retires. It was reported there were 19 applicants seeking the position.

Williams will serve a three-year probationary term and if his work is satisfactory, then the Cooperative Board of Educational Services must recommend that he be granted tenure, and that can only be given by the State Education Commissioner.

Winchester said he expects to work with Williams to prepare him for the $14,000 a year job.

Williams began his teaching career in South Glens Falls High School as a science instructor and basketball coach. In 1938 he became assistant principal at the school and the next year became supervising principal. From 1944 until his appointment at Red Hook in 1948 he served as superintendent of schools in Watford and later supervising principal in the Cincinnati Central school district.

Probe Continued In Fire Death Of Beacon Baby

Beacon police today continued investigation of a house fire which caused the death of an eight-month-old girl and injuries to a city fireman on Monday afternoon.

Police Chief Samuel Wood told The Freeman that Roxanne Talley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Talley, 24 River Street, perished in the fire which heavily damaged the room in which the child was sleeping.

Fire Driver Joseph Seelye suffered burns of the face and hands as he dashed into the burning room and carried the baby outside. The child was pronounced dead at Highland Hospital, Beacon. Seelye was treated at the hospital and released.

Chief Wood said the child's mother had left the house for a few minutes to go to a neighbor's home next door. Before she left her home she asked a woman neighbor who resides upstairs to watch the baby until she returned. The neighbor went downstairs after she detected smoke and discovered flames sweeping the baby's room.

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Medical Society wants Congress to hold back on health care for the aged until the whole problem has been thoroughly studied.

Such a recommendation was adopted Monday by the society's House of Delegates at its annual meeting.

The statement also called on the society to "condemn the present tendency to make a political football of our elderly patients."

"It has now become quite obvious," said the resolution, "that the needs of our older citizens are becoming secondary to the needs of political expediency."

"No one who has presented a plan for financing the health care of the aged has demonstrated the needs of people over 65."

The delegates also recommended legislation to extend the medical examiner system throughout the state. The system is now in operation in New York City and Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Erie counties.

Dr. John M. Galbraith of Glen Cove was named president-elect of the society to succeed Dr. Norman S. Moore of Ithaca. Moore was installed as president.

Dr. Walter Street of Syracuse was elected vice president and Dr. Henry I. Fineberg of Jamaica, Queens, outgoing president, was named a trustee.

Included in those elected as delegates to the American Medical Assn. were: Dr. John F. Kelly of Utica; Dr. Joseph A. Lane of Rochester; Dr. John Z. McClintock of Albany, and Dr. Carlton E. Wertz of Buffalo.

Red Photo Phony, U2 Designer Says

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — The man who designed the high-altitude U2 plane says the photograph released by the Soviet Union as a picture of a wrecked U2 is phony.

"I do not believe they shot down the U2 either by a missile or other aircraft," said C. L. Johnson, a top designer with Lockheed Aircraft Corp. here.

The U2, termed a weather research plane by the government, is unofficially said to fly so high that other planes can't touch it. It is reported to carry radar-jamming devices to protect it from missiles.

"If they have the U2," said Johnson, "it is because some mechanical or oxygen failure caused it to descend far below its normal cruising altitude."

The wing section in the left foreground is definitely not that of a U2. The heavy structural element at the top of the photograph has no counterpart on the U2. Not one single U2 part could be identified in the wreckage."

Johnson's guess is that the wreckage photographed was actually that of a Soviet Beagle bomber.

Reds Protest Flights

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today delivered a stiff protest to the United States about spy flights over Soviet territory. At the same time the United States requested permission to interview the pilot of the Lockheed U2 shot down near Sverdlovsk on May Day.

Last month the Whitney Museum of American Art purchased a major Pachner work for the museum collection.

Rotron Controls Says Landesman Sales Manager

The appointment of Arthur L. Landesman as sales manager of Rotron Controls Corporation has been announced by J. Constantine VanRijn, president of the Woodstock company.

Landesman will organize all of Rotron's marketing operations in the United States as well as other countries for the active promotion of the company's vortex-velocity flowmeter and densitometer, instrumentation for industrial process monitoring product accounting and control.

Prior to joining Rotron Controls, Landesman served as district sales manager for the Process Instruments Division of Beckman Instruments in Philadelphia for four years and as pulp and paper industry manager for Fischer and Porter Co. at Hathers, Pa., for five years. He also was a production supervisor for Heyden Chemical Corporation, Garfield, N. J., for almost five years.

Landesman earned his Bachelor of Science degree at Lehigh University and the Master of Science degree also in chemical engineering at Stevens Institute of Technology. He is a member of the Instrument Society of America.

In the near future, Mrs. Landesman and their two young children will move from their home in Huntington Valley, Pa. to join Mr. Landesman. The family looks forward eagerly to residing in the vicinity of Kingston.

Auxiliary Hears Monthly Reports, Makes Donation

Chairmen of the standing committees gave their monthly reports and a donation of fifteen dollars was made to the Woodstock Garden Club at the regular meeting of Woodstock American Legion Auxiliary No. 1026 at the American Legion Building. The president, Mrs. Shirl Novak, presided.

The donation to the Garden Club was to put flowers on the memorial on the Village Green. Mrs. Lamont Marvin, chairman of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Marge Styles, Mrs. Kay DuBois, Mrs. Shirl Novak and Mrs. Kay Robertello will assist.

The parade will start at 11:30 a. m., forming at Orchard Lane West. Any member wishing to parade or ride in a car is asked to contact Mrs. Novak.

Saturday, May 28, will be Poppy Day, it was announced. At that time volunteer workers and junior members will be selling poppies throughout the town.

Mrs. Novak will appoint a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers to be presented at the June meeting and voted on at the September meeting for the ensuing year.

The state convention of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held in Buffalo on Aug. 24-25-26. Mrs. Kay DuBois will attend in the absence of the president, Mrs. Novak, who will be unable to attend.

After the meeting closed refreshments were served by Elsie Ertz and Mrs. Kay Robertello.

Frank Miller of Arbutus Associates gave an informative talk on "The Care of Trees, making the membership more cognizant of the measures which should be taken to improve and preserve this area of nature's gift to humanity.

P-TA Institute At Cornell Has Theme on Quality

Fired by the challenging questions: What is Quality Education? Who is responsible for it? What can be done to bring about the necessary changes in order to have this quality education for all children? leading educators and P-TA delegates from all over New York state took up the challenge to find the answers at the Cornell-P-TA Institute on quality education.

Attending from the Woodstock-Ontario school area were Mrs. Anna Larys, a member of the OCS Board of Education and a district director at P-TA; Mrs. Jack Garside and Mrs. Janet Greene of the Woodstock P-TA.

For four days, all persons involved in this institute studied, debated, listened and questioned, and came up with several concrete proposals and challenges for the schools, the communities and the homes of New York State.

The institute framed a definition of quality education, the handiwork of Mrs. Greene of Woodstock, as follows:

"A quality education should provide all children with the tools of learning whereby they may continue their education for as long as they live; it would give all children a basis for comparing and evaluating information in the light of history of the past and currents of the present; it would give all children a facility for communicating their ideas through written and spoken English; it would ignite curiosity in the past, present, and future; it would spark an interest in the cultural arts of the world; it would indelibly instill a sense of personal integrity in every child; this quality education can only be transmitted through quality teachers supported by interested parents."

This is what these representatives of the people, the schools and the institutions of higher learning feel should be the educational goal of all public elementary and secondary schools in New York State.

These representatives propose that the responsibility for realizing this goal lies in three areas. The community is responsible for defining precisely what it, all the people, expect from the public schools in order to achieve their interpretation of quality education, to present this mandate to the school boards and to be willing to pay for what they request.

Among the prominent educators and speakers at the institute were: George Angell, president, College of Education, Plattsburgh and vice president, New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers; Robert N. King, vice president of the State Association of Elementary School Principals; John McGuire, District Superintendent of Schools, Suffolk County and vice president New York State Association of District Superintendents; Roland H. Ross, vice president, New York State Association of Secondary School Principals;

Also, Howard C. Seymour, president Council of School Superintendents, Cities and Villages, State of New York; Donald O'Connor, business representative, International Association of Machinists; Abraham Dunn, manager, Advanced Engineering Administration and Employe and Community Relations, General Electric Electronics Center; Dr. Robin M. Williams, Professor of Sociology, Cornell University; and Dr. Frederick H. Stutz, Dean, School of Education, Cornell University.

members and friends attended the business meeting and lecture at the Methodist Church hall. Refreshments were served by Mrs. S. Brainard West and Miss Hubbard, whose arrangements of forsythia and narcissus decorated the refreshment and speaker's table.

Poster Contest, Other Plans Set By Garden Club

Fifth and sixth grade pupils of the Woodstock Elementary School, under the direction of Lillian Lent, have completed posters in a contest which will determine which are to be used in conjunction with the Clean Up Poster Contest sponsored by the Woodstock Garden Club.

Miss Therese Kessel, chairman of the contest, reported to the May meeting of the club, that the posters will be judged by Miss Kessel, Miss Florence Hubbard and Mrs. Henry Winzenried, president of the club. The posters will be displayed in store windows throughout the town.

Mrs. Arthur Jones, secretary, reported that four local business firms had entered the club's 1960 Civic Improvement Contest. Mrs. Henry Schwab, Mrs. Carl Lindin and Mrs. Raymond Van Valkenburgh were appointed a committee to judge the plantings by contestants in the Civic Improvement Contest.

It was announced that Mrs. Frank Dunn and Mrs. Craig Vossburgh will do the planting at the Woodstock Memorial this year. The matter of placing flower boxes at the Woodstock Information Center was discussed but tabled until the June meeting, before which time the Club will be informed if the Woodstock Jaycees will open the Center this season.

Mrs. William Miller and Miss Hubbard were appointed to cooperate with Mrs. Reginald Wilson of the Town Planning Committee whose present project is the planting of trees in one of the housing developments on the Bearsville flats.

Women's League Has Discussion On School Costs

Three members of the Woodstock League of Women Voters presented an informative discussion concerning the financial facet of the state public school system at the May 4th meeting of the League at Deane's. More than 50 members attended.

Assisted by charts and graphs, Mrs. Edward Gurland, Mrs. Sidney Greenberg and Miss Florence Harrison explained the source of revenue for the schools, the amount needed now and in the future, and the actual cost per pupil per year to educate the thousands of school age children.

A report of the Herald Commission was explained, the report stressing under what is known as the "master plan," the need for consolidation which results in a greater source of tax, and the subsequent results of more and better teachers and better educational facilities.

Delegate Reports Mrs. Fred Desmond, the Woodstock delegate to the National convention of the League of Women Voters in St. Louis, reported on the activities, results and inspiration of that great convention attended by women from every state in the union, and many from associated Leagues in foreign countries.

Mrs. Reginald Wilson presented an outline of study for the coming year dealing with the need for; and present and natural resources to provide a recreational program for all ages in Woodstock.

Mrs. Frank Falkner talked briefly concerning the forthcoming primary, the presidential conventions, telling of various ways delegates to the political conventions are chosen and stressing the individual citizen responsibility toward political activity.

Record Vermont Trout

LYNDONVILLE, Vt. (AP)—Fishing authorities believe a 34-pound lake trout caught by Leon Hopkins of Lyndonville is a record for Vermont.

Hopkins caught the fish after a 45 minute battle Sunday at Wiloughby Lake.

George W. Davis, director of the Vermont Fish and Game Service, said Monday he is certain the catch is a Vermont record. A check is being made to see if it is a New England record.

Hopkins was using a light, glass trolling rod with a 28-pound test line.

NASD Called "Mighty Powerful"

Q "You have mentioned the desirability of trading with a member of the National Association of Security Dealers. What is this association and how does it protect me?" R. L.

A) The NASD was set up by the investment fraternity itself to regulate and police the activities of its members in the over-the-counter market. It gets its authority from a Congressional amendment to the Securities and Exchange Act, the Maloney Act of 1938. A great deal of its work is the enforcement of rules and policies laid down by Congress and administered by the SEC. The latter must pass on all NASD rules for its members and has the power to review its decisions. The NASD has ample authority and has used it. Over the past 20 years, some 200 members have been expelled for violation of its rules, others have been suspended, and a great many have been fined, some very heavily. The SEC is directly concerned with enforcing the law, whereas the NASD polices questionable practices and ethics among its own members. Expulsion from the Association can put a broker out of business, and while it doesn't guarantee honesty and fair dealing, it's a mighty powerful club.

Q "I hold Owens-Illinois Glass common and preferred. The yield is small. Would you advise me to sell and reinvest? I am retired on a small income." J. B.

A) You have two very strong situations and I hate to see you part with them. Owens-Illinois is the largest maker of glass containers and is also something of an investment trust, through interests in other companies. Hold the common for now, since there is a possibility that the shares will be split and the dividend increased. Your preferred sells high because it is convertible into Owens-Corning Fiberglas. If you must have more income, sell your preferred and reinvest in New England Electric System, selling recently to yield 5.4 per cent.

Wilson Praises Rocky's Moves to Better Economy

AMSTERDAM, N.Y. (AP)—Republican candidates in New York State this year have a big talking point in Gov. Rockefeller's efforts to improve the state's economy. Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson declares. Wilson, in a speech at the annual dinner of the Montgomery County Republican Committee Monday night, said that Rockefeller, when running for office, had promised "to do everything he could to encourage expansion of business."

Wilson said employment in New York was up and business activity was at a near-record level. "We see the signs of success," he said.

PLAN STATE QUEEN'S ITINERARY—Arrangements for the visit of Bonnie Jo Marquis, Miss New York State here on Friday and Saturday were discussed at a recent planning session in the office of Mayor Edwin F. Radel at City Hall. The route of the motorcade through the city, Town of Ulster and Port Ewen was outlined and a schedule of stops arranged. Attending were (l-r) Charles Hoppey, local restaurateur, who will be host to the official party at his restaurant on Wall Street; Robert Beaumont, general manager of Bob Nadler Inc., in charge of transportation for the motorcade; Mayor Radel; Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, and Albert Kurdt, manager of Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. (Freeman photo.)

Miss N. Y. State To Tour Kingston Area on Weekend

Bonnie Jo Marquis, Miss New York State of 1960 will return to Kingston—the scene of her triumph—this weekend. The 19-year-old state queen from Huntington, L. I. was crowned here in May of last year.

She will be welcomed at Governor Clinton Hotel at 3 p. m. Friday by Ronald Drowns, manager. At 4:15 p. m. Miss Marquis will make an appearance at the municipal auditorium.

Saturday at 9:30 a. m. Mayor Radel will present the key to the city at a City Hall ceremony. At 10 a. m. David Fletcher, president of Central Businessmen's Association will make a presentation at the Community Theater.

The motorcade will continue with brief stops at Central Post Office; at the intersection of Broadway and Foxhall Avenue, and upper Broadway. At 11 a. m. a presentation will be made by Sully Fleming, acting president of Uptown Businessmen's Association at Kingston Theater. The motorcade will stop at noon for luncheon at Hoppey's Restaurant.

At 1:45 in the afternoon, the brown-eyed beauty queen will receive a gift from Harold Macdonald, president of Ulster-Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association at Chambers School, Town of Ulster.

Manuel Linton, acting president of Rondout Area Businessmen's Association will make a presentation 2:30 p. m. at Freeman Square.

The motorcade will proceed to Port Ewen where at 3 p. m. a presentation will be made to Miss Marquis by Zale Liese, president of Port Ewen Businessmen's Association. From there the motorcade will return to City Hall.

Upstate Attorneys Are Fined $10,000 Each As Tax Evaders

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Two prominent Upstate attorneys, one a former assistant state attorney general, each have been fined $10,000 for failing to file federal income tax returns in 1954 and 1955.

Judge Stephen W. Brennan of U.S. District Court imposed the fines Monday on George J. L. Taylor of Plattsburgh and Franklin P. Gavin of Albany. Both men pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charges last month.

In another case, Robert A. Hayes, 18, farm worker from the suburb of Solway, pleaded innocent to a charge of attempting to derail the New York Central Railroad's Empire State Express.

Taylor, a former chairman of the Plattsburgh Republican City Committee, resigned from the attorney general's staff April 29, the day after he entered the guilty plea. He was appointed to the post in 1955 and was paid $9,940 a year.

Brennan gave both Taylor and Gavin until June 15 to pay the first $5,000 of the fine and until July 15 to pay the remainder. Hayes was fined in $1,000 bail.

The FBI said he placed a three-foot, iron angle-bar on a tie plate in the Central's tracks near Kirkville, east of Syracuse, April 15.

The train, with 400 passengers, hit the bar at 80 miles an hour, tipped, but remained on the tracks.

In other cases: Aristomenis Nicolopoulos, 32, of Montreal, was sentenced to serve a year and a day in federal prison on charges of smuggling aliens from Canada into the United States. He pleaded guilty April 4. Mrs. Ruth Y. White, 42, of Schenectady, was placed on probation for two years on charges of evading personal income taxes totaling $797 for the years 1953-54.

Secretary Speaks Here

Speaking for the National Secretaries Association Mrs. Beatrice Edwards told members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday that her association was established to elevate the standards of secretaries through a definite educational program.

It was pointed out that more than 20,000 secretaries are currently members of the National Secretaries Association, with a local chapter composed of Kingston and Poughkeepsie members functioning in this area. A total of almost 500 chapters are in existence throughout the country and in some foreign countries too, according to Mrs. Edwards. The local unit was formed in 1958 and numbers 42 members at the present time.

"Our program was designed to help members help themselves," said the speaker, who repeatedly emphasized the educational facets of the Association's program.

In closing Mrs. Edwards requested all Kiwanians to write on a blank card "what you dislike most about your secretaries," for the purpose of advising the organization where they can improve the services rendered by their membership.

Outstanding Labor Leader Will Receive Plaque at Newspaper Ball on Saturday

JOHN A. COLE

The upstate elementary CYO one-act-play contest is scheduled for Sunday, 2 p. m., at St. Peter's Hall, Monticello.

Mrs. Frank Grancey, dramatic coach of St. Mary's Church, Kingston, has entered a comedy, "Wild Cat Willie" by Anne Coulter-Martens.

The cast is composed of Terry Burns, in the title role, with Patricia Golden, Greg Durkin, Eileen Geisel, Gary Smith and Virginia Phillips. Persons interested in witnessing the contest are invited to attend.

Winners of these contests will compete in the archdiocesan finals in June in New York City. On June 5, National Youth Adoration Day will be observed throughout the entire nation. All Catholic Youth are asked to receive Holy Communion and to spend a part of the day privately before the Blessed Sacrament.

The theme for this year's observance is the virtue of fortitude—for all CYOers to pray to the Holy Spirit for guidance to know the truth and the courage to follow it.

In reminding CYO track and field enthusiasts of the meet for girls this week at the Dietz Stadium, Mary Leach, athletic director for girls, anticipates the largest turnout to date for this event.

The teams have all been entered for the CYO quiz contest which will take place Saturday afternoon at St. Joseph's School.

There is still time to send in entries for the various boys' baseball-leagues. Schedules will be prepared this weekend.

County Director Leo A. Schupp has been designated as director of the Upstate Division of the One-Act-Play Contests. The junior division run off will be at St. Mary's School, Kingston, Thursday, May 19, beginning at 7:30 with teams entered from Orange, Dutchess and Sullivan Counties.

Miss Maureen Rice has been named chairman of the local contest, with members of the Coach House Players aiding as judges.

PC Completed Now
NEW YORK (AP) — New York State's census, 98 per cent complete, has reached a population count of 16,200,000 of an estimated 16,500,000 total.

Arthur F. Young, federal census director of the state, announced the figures today. The Census Bureau will conduct its mission night Wednesday, with enumerators covering the Bowery and similar mission areas in Manhattan.

Poultry Receipts Dip

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Cash received by New Jersey's poultry farmers last year nosedived 21 per cent, the State Agriculture Department reported today.

The department said receipts for chickens and eggs in 1959 totaled $83,889,000 compared with $105,991,000 in 1958.

Egg prices averaged 36.7 cents a dozen, the lowest price since 1941. Meat chicken prices also hit an 18-year low.

Egg production declined 2 per cent from 2,433,000,000 in 1958 to 2,379,000,000 in 1959.

Tension Is Feared

Kingston High School Golfers Defeat Port Jervis Squad, 7-5

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

It's amazing how golfers can be tripped up on some of the simplest rules in golf. And where can you find more vociferous clubhouse lawyers than at the 19th oasis of any country club.

Like the day last week when Phil Malin, George Cozenza, Howard Terwilliger, Lannie Ingalls and an itinerant newspaper man became involved in a discussion on the rule dealing with a ball buried in a sand trap.

Only Malin, the High Falls restaurateur, had the answer. Mr. Malin, who could have picked up a bundle if the boys made a move for their wallets, explained the rule which was quickly corroborated when Eddie Lane, the mixologist, whipped out a rule book.

The rule says enough sand can be removed to establish location of the imbedded ball, but the agate cannot be picked up for identification.

One of the gentlemen then tossed the curve ball: What happens if two balls are imbedded in the same trap. How are they identified. The conversation ended there.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Ken Charlton, entertainment chairman at Woodstock Country Club, launched the social season ahead of schedule Saturday, when he held the No. 4 hole and was host to a large number of friends and acquaintances on the 19th hole. . . . George Cozenza's sparkling 81 was omitted, inadvertently, of course, from last week's ENYGA summaries. . . . We had to confess to Carol Malin, one of the finalists in the Newspaper Guild's Page One Queen contest next Saturday night at the Clinton, that her dad—Phil Malin—really won Class B low gross and not Class C last week in ENYGA. . . . Coach Walter Van Wageningen plans to book six matches for Ontario Central's golf squad whenever possible. . . . He figures it will take at least two years before the Indians are on a par, pardon the pun, with other schools in the area. We'll say this for the Ontario squad, they'll have a real coach, not a chaperon. The Woodstock principal knows his golf, but, we hope, will not advocate the "baseball grip" to his proteges. . . . The Twaalfskill Club has its first cocktail party of the season Saturday, May 14, from 5 to 7 p. m.

• It Had to Happen:

The world's first indoor nine hole pitch-and-putt course is in the planning stages by George L. Sawyer of Hopkins, Minn. Roofed by a plastic dome, the 660 by 330 foot building housing the course would cover five acres. The plastic roof would start at the top of 10-foot reinforced concrete walls, curving upward to a maximum height of 75 feet. Holes would be from 60 to 110 yards long. The building would be heated, lighted and air conditioned. A cocktail lounge and swimming pool, each covered by their own plastic domes are planned in conjunction with the course. Sawyer, a grain merchandiser, said the project will cost about $800,000 exclusive of land. Owner of the 12-acre site reportedly is asking $8,000 an acre. Course architect will be Willie Kidd, Sr., former pro at Interlachen in Minneapolis.

• Dates to Remember:

Some golf dates of interest to area golfers: National Golf Day will be staged on June 11. . . . Annual Insurance City Open at Wethersfield, Conn., on June 8-12. . . . The Ladies' PGA circuit will be at Grossingers for a 72 hole tournament, Aug. 24-27. . . . The National Open is slated at Cherry Hills CC, Englewood, Colo., June 16-18, with local qualifying on May 23. Sectional qualifying is scheduled June 6 or 7. . . . U. S. Senior Amateur at Oyster Harbors, Oysterville, Mass., Sept. 19-24, sectional qualifying Sept. 7. . . . The USA Seniors, the daddy of the Seniors tournaments, will be held June 7-8 at hallowed Apawamis Club and Westchester CC, one round on each course. . . . The New York State Women's Amateur unfolds at Glens Falls CC on July 12-16 and the State Men's amateur is scheduled at Locust Hill CC, Pittsford, July 20-24. . . . Elmira Country Club is host to the State Junior championship July 26-28.

FASHION NOTE: A Phoenix newspaper has advertised a golfing skirt which zips from the bottom up. If a lady wants more freedom for a swing, she merely zips more. . . . And the winner of the top prize at a San Francisco club wore camel-colored vest, slacks and cap, black knit shirt with matching belt and black knit spats. Oh, dear!

Hyde Park Birds Win Race Honors

Walter Zajowski of Hyde Park, held the first and second place winners in the Kingston-Ulster County Racing Pigeon Club's 250 mile pigeon race held from Washington, D. C., last week.

The winning pigeon covered the 250 miles to its loft in Hyde Park in five hours, 49 minutes, and 22 seconds, for an average speed of 1296.53 yards per minute. The second place bird, from the same loft, clocked 1295.97 yards per minute.

Others placing in the Washington race included Joseph Moculski of Port Ewen, Raymond Ursek of Tilton, and Frank DeAngelo of New Paltz.

According to information from the Kingston-Ulster Racing Pigeon Club officials, the birds were liberated in Washington, D. C., at 7:15 a. m. in clear weather with south winds. There were 36 birds in the race, representing six lofts.

Hobbs-Chapman Bridge Winners

Charles Hobbs and John Chapman of Poughkeepsie collaborated for a 59 per cent game to win first place in the Fractional point game sponsored by the Glenelg Bridge Club. Twenty-one boards were in play in the 7-table Howell movement game at the Ridgeley Casino in Stone Ridge.

Mrs. Jean Madden of Ellenville and Laszlo Sima of Woodstock were second with 58 1/2 per cent game. Third place went to Dr. Habeeb Maroon and Dr. John Oliver of Kingston with 53 per cent.

Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft of Kingston and Dave Skilling of Lake Katrine were fourth with 52 1/2 per cent, with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Addiss of Beacon fifth with 52 per cent.

The Glenelg Bridge Club will hold its regular Fractional point game tonight at 8 o'clock at the Jewish Community Center in Kingston.

Buzzy Costello Cards 1-Over 71 To Pace Maroons

William (Buzzy) Costello fashioned a 1-over-par 71, with a 3-under-par 32 on the back nine, to pace Kingston High's golfers to a 7-5 victory over the powerful Port Jervis High School swingers, Monday on the Twaalfskill links.

Costello scored a 3-0 victory in the No. 2 match and Laurin Beaver, carding 40-38-78, swept the No. 4 match to nail down the Maroon victory.

Fred Woerner, Port's No. 1 shooter, fashioned 39-35-74 to score a 2 1/2 to 1/2 victory over Mike Bruhn and Barry Roderman, a good golfer apparently playing the No. 3 spot for strategic purposes, toppled Fred Barthel, 2 1/2 to 1/2. Roderman carded 37-38-75 to Barthel's 38-38-76 in the closest match of the day.

Middletown Next
The victory checked Kingston's streak at two matches, excluding a 9-hole triumph over Catskill last week.

Coach Harold Hathway's swingers resume their DUSO schedule against Middletown High Wednesday at Twaalfskill. Port Jervis had beaten Poughkeepsie, victors over the Maroons, prior to Monday.

The scores:

Port Jervis High (5)
	Out	In	Tot.	Pts.
Woerner	39	35	74	2 1/2
Sahofsky	49	46	95	0
Roderman	37	38	75	2 1/2
Lefferts	44	41	85	0

Kingston High (7)
	Out	In	Tot.	Pts.
M. Bruhn	39	38	77	1 1/2
Costello	39	32	71	3
Barthel	38	38	76	1 1/2
Beaver	40	38	78	3

A. Hinkley Slams 561

Anne Hinkley bombed a 561 series in the Ferraro Junior Major last night, wrapping games of 157 and 183 around a middle 221.

TOLEDO, Ohio, (AP)—Despite his modest 193 average, former champion Tom Hennessy managed to be among the eight bowlers who remained undefeated from an original finals field of 64 in the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament.

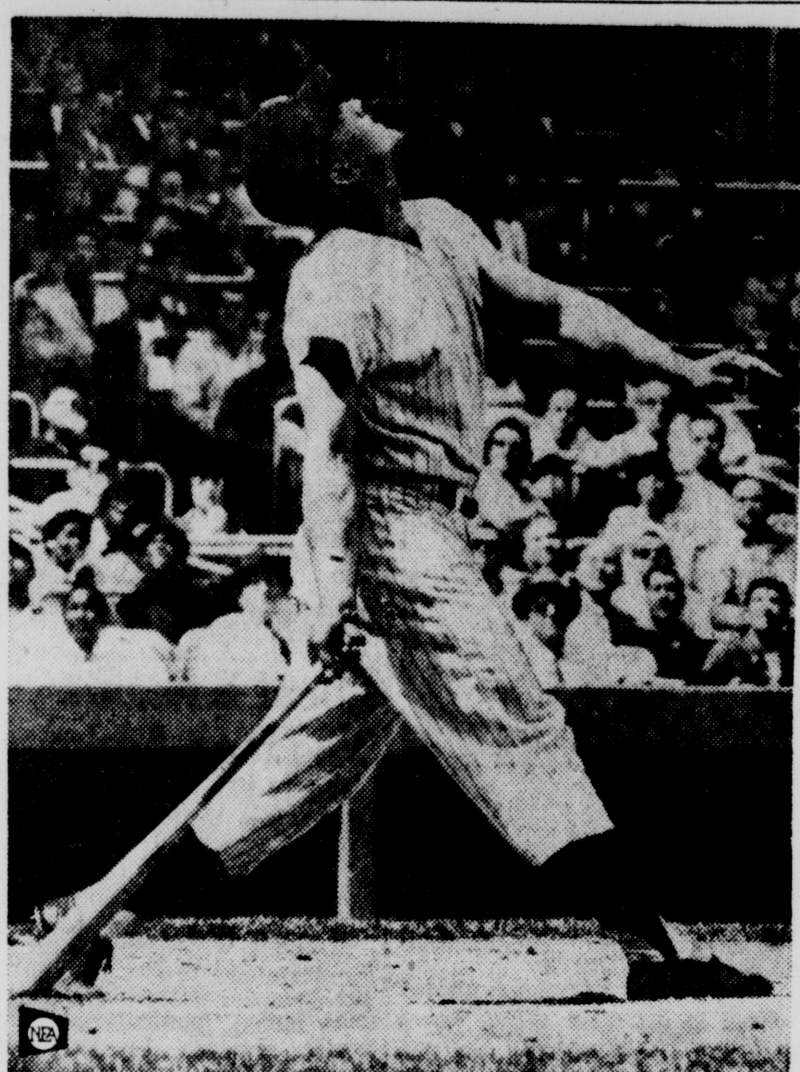

The St. Louis star made a flashy debut in the finals Sunday night when he crushed Joe Kristof of Chicago 891 to 824 in their four-game skirmish. He won his second match Monday, with Al Thompson of Cleveland 771 to 761 and made it three straight late in the day as he slipped past Detroit's Pete Carter 774 to 747.

Kristof was evicted from the double elimination tournament despite a 210 average. After his loss to Hennessy, Kristof came off on the short end of 903-860 duel with Ed Lubansky of Detroit.

By the end of Monday's action seven bowlers posted untarnished records.

Ed Kowalczyk, Chicago; Clyde Hobbs, Cleveland; Gerry Schmidt, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Al Sak, Milwaukee, and Bill Golembiewski, George Howard and Therman Gibson, Detroit.

Well-known bowler eliminated Monday included two-time Masters champion Dick Hoover, Pat Patterson, and Dick Weber of St. Louis; Buddy Bomar and Carmen Salvino of Chicago and Ed Lubansky and Bob Kwolek of Detroit. The Masters will end Wednesday night.

SKY HIGH—Hitting a rainmaker almost straight up, Roger Maris follows the flight of the foul ball. The outfielder New York Yankees obtained from Kansas City hasn't been doing this often. He leads the American League in batting average.

Natural GOLF

No. 24—Basic Stance

BY JIMMY DEMARET
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The accompanying illustration shows the stance for a tee shot.

The ball is played so that if a line were drawn from it to the left foot it would pass through the area between the center of the left foot and heel. This places the hands almost directly in the center of the body. The left foot and hip have been opened slightly. The ball is being played toward the left side.

Each of these provisions, along with the flexed knees, greatly assists an easy and powerful flow of the downswing as the club-head makes contact with the ball, and goes from there to the full finish of the swing.

Fixing the hands in the grip, and making certain that each is under its wrist, you have the arms, hands and club pretty much in a straight line extending from the shoulders and running down the arms and club to the ball, as indicated by the arrow.

This is the single, basic stance. With only slight variations, you use this stance in every shot.

Straight line
NEXT: A straight line from the waist up to the head.

South African Golfer Admits He Wants Dough, That's All

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—"It isn't the experience I'm after. It's the money."

So says South Africa's Harold Henning, a determined follower of the path trodden by his countrymen Bobby Locke and Gary Player and by Australia's Peter Thomson on the U.S. professional golf circuit.

Henning is one of nearly a dozen foreign pros to hit the American tournaments this year, a survey revealed today. Its biggest invasion in recent memory and with a few exceptions the visitors are looking for experience more than cash.

In addition to Player and Henning, South Africa has sent Bob Relief Walton, Denis Hutchinson Verwe, Player's brother-in-law, and Bryan Roelofs, Thomson, who pioneered the international tour back in 1951, delayed his American debut this year. But Australian veteran Kel Nagle has been here for some time, Norm Von Nida was a visitor for a while and Bruce Crampton and Len Woodward were more recent arrivals from Australia.

Toss in England's Harry Weetman, who made the winter tour, and three or four frequent visitors from Canada and it makes a sizeable delegation.

It was Locke, of course, who showed the way when he earned more than $24,000 on the American tour in 1947. Thomson didn't get much but experience on his first few visits here, but after a few brushes with the tough American competition, he went on to win the British Open four times.

Orioles Stymied In Trade Attempts

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles apparently have run up against some blank walls in their search for a catcher to replace disabled Gus Triandos.

"We're still trying though," said Lee Macphail, Oriole president and general manager.

Macphail reported that he has contacted "six or eight" big league clubs in an effort to acquire a right-handed-hitting receiver to replace Triandos.

Big Gus, who will be lost to the Birds for at least a month, is scheduled to undergo surgery Wednesday for relief from pressure on a nerve in the inner side of his right thumb.

Lancaster Tops In Attendance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Lancaster Red Roses are leading the Eastern League in attendance and show a 7,085 gain over last year thus far despite being in fifth place in the standings.

Many league observers credit much of the gain to Ralph Miller, the Red Roses' new business manager who has instituted several promotional stunts.

One of Miller's promotions has been the "Ball Park Sellout," in which a lot of tickets is sold to a business establishment for a given night. The firm, in turn, gives the tickets to its clients. The promotion was used at Lancaster's second home game this year and the club drew 4,733 fans.

Other attendance figures show Springfield in second place with 7,844 fans in five home games for a 1,568 average; and Allentown, the league leader, third with 8,338 in seven games for a 1,191 average.

The other clubs stack up this way (home games, total attendance, average): Binghamton, 7-7-5601,080; Williamsport, 10-9-225,922; Reading, 6-5,371-895.

Meanwhile, rain and cold forced postponement of all the league's games Monday night.

In tonight's games Binghamton is at Lancaster, Williamsport at Springfield and Allentown at Reading for a doubleheader.

Billy Short Now Rated Biggest Yank Pitcher

Rookie Hurler Faces Cleveland

By ED CO'RRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—If you had asked any member of the New York Yankees to identify Billy Short two months ago, he'd probably scratch his head, think a minute and then remember: "Oh yeah, that kid they had at Richmond last year."

Tonight, the same Short, 22 year old and less than two months out of the Army, becomes the most important pitcher on the Yankees when he takes the mound against the Cleveland Indians in the opening game of an important series.

Starting a rookie at this stage is highly unusual for the Yankees and it indicates the high regard Manager Casey Stengel and pitching coach Eddie Lopat have for Short.

He has made three starts already, against the lesser lights of the league, and has compiled a 2.35 earned run average while winning two and losing one. The setback was a 2-1 decision to the Baltimore Orioles.

Short has had one big problem — wildness. He has issued six walks in each game.

"I'm sure the only reason Billy has had control trouble is his late start this year," said Lopat, who managed him at Richmond last year. "He had very good control at Richmond. He gave up only 69 walks in 179 innings."

Petersen Rolls 619

Bob Petersen bounced back from a 149 opener with slams of 234-236 for a league-leading 619 in the Junior Major, Runner-up Sam Turk decked 232-603.

Ernie Bartroff fired 223-598.

Tom Orr 518, Jim Petersen 506.

Ken Schupp 535, Harold Rockwell 511, Bill Rohan 537, Rod Phillips 203-577, Nat Phillips 509, Paul Malek 511, Neil Grant 535, Frank Leskie 550, Bob Weishaupt 514, Matt Weishaupt 212-547, Bob Tarante 211-537.

Other two of the nine games scheduled in the six-team Class D circuit in the last three days have been played. Both were on Saturday.

Wet grounds forced postponement of the Auburn at Erie, Corning at Wellsville and Elmira at Geneva contests Monday night.

Olstott, First Captain of the United States Corps of Cadets, congratulates Miss Judith Schwartz of Kingston High School on winning the 1960 physical fitness award. Mrs. Rosetta Donoghue, vice president of the New York State Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, presents the boy's award to James Sims, Kingston High's crack mile runner. These students were presented their awards at the Fourth Annual meeting of the NYSAHPER which was held at West Point.

Seventy awards were presented to the high school students from the Southeastern zone of NYSAHPER. The awards are based on the student's physical fitness and his or her all-round participation in other school activities. Following the presentation of awards, the students and their teachers were taken on a sight-seeing tour of West Point. The Office of Physical Education at the United States Military Academy was host for this meeting. (U. S. Army photo).

Onteora Golfers Open Thursday

The delayed opener for Onteora Central School's first golf varsity is scheduled against Ockawanick Central School of Philmont, Thursday at 3:15 p. m. at Woodstock Country Club.

Onteora's scheduled opener with Catskill High on Monday was rained out. Coach Walter S. Van Wagenen said the two schools will play a 6-man match.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor, Field & Stream

Many Airedale terriers are doing yeoman duty as all-purpose dogs.

My interest in the breed started 45 years ago when moving pictures of Paul Rainey and his lion dogs were shown in their African exploits. Watching them chasing and baying the big cats was enough to stir in any youngster the desire to possess one of these shaggy daredevils.

My dad may have been inspired by the adventures of the Rainey pack, just as I, or perhaps he just took a liking to the first fellow who became our first Airedale.

Our Airedales were no more trimmed than Rainey's. Their coats were excellent natural protection against the elements, cover and the racoons with which they often tangled.

In earlier days, rats commonly infested stables. We found that Airedales were excellent vermin dogs.

When we had our first automobiles, we appended upon a means for catching a bonus. We found that when a car engine was revved up — and the four-cylinder monsters were not nearly as smooth as today's machines — the wooden barn was set in vibration in a manner which caused the rats to crawl down the studding from the hayloft.

The dog would wait for them to reach snatching distance, give them a shake and run to the next victim.

Occasionally a dog of other than the pointing breeds would point instinctively. When an Airedale happens to point and is a good natural retriever, will run with a coonhound, and serve as a varmint and guard dog at home — tending stock if he lives on a farm — he is a prize.

This cannot be expected of every dog of the breed, but it happens.

Fortunately there is an outfit that has been perpetuating the rugged, hunting-type Airedale through the years.

Harvard's Crew Is Rated Among Finest

Princeton Coach Predicts Win In the Olympics

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"I've never seen a faster crew than Harvard's. They could go all the way to Rome."

Princeton Rowing Coach Dutch Schoch spoke today in admiration of the Crimson's unbeaten varsity heavyweights, and then moaned: "Just my luck. Her, I've got a good crew—about as good as any I've ever had at this stage of the season—and we've been beaten by Harvard, Pennsylvania and Navy."

The three happen to be the only unbeaten in the East and all are prime contenders for the Eastern Sprint Championships on Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester, Mass., Saturday and the Olympic Trials at Syracuse, N.Y., July 7-9.

"I guess I just get my best crews in the wrong years," said Schoch. "The same thing happened in 1952. I had an outstanding crew but you know what happened."

Eight years ago Navy came up with a great eight that swept unbeaten right through to the Olympic title at Helsinki, Finland, and kept on winning for two more years.

"I think Harvard has too much polish for Navy and Penn and should win the sprints Saturday," Schoch continued. "Sure they're even faster than last year (when Harvard went undefeated). They're not as big or strong as Navy but they've got enough size. Navy is tremendous physically. They've got guys matched like cultured pearls. But I feel personally Harvard and Penn have better rowing crews."

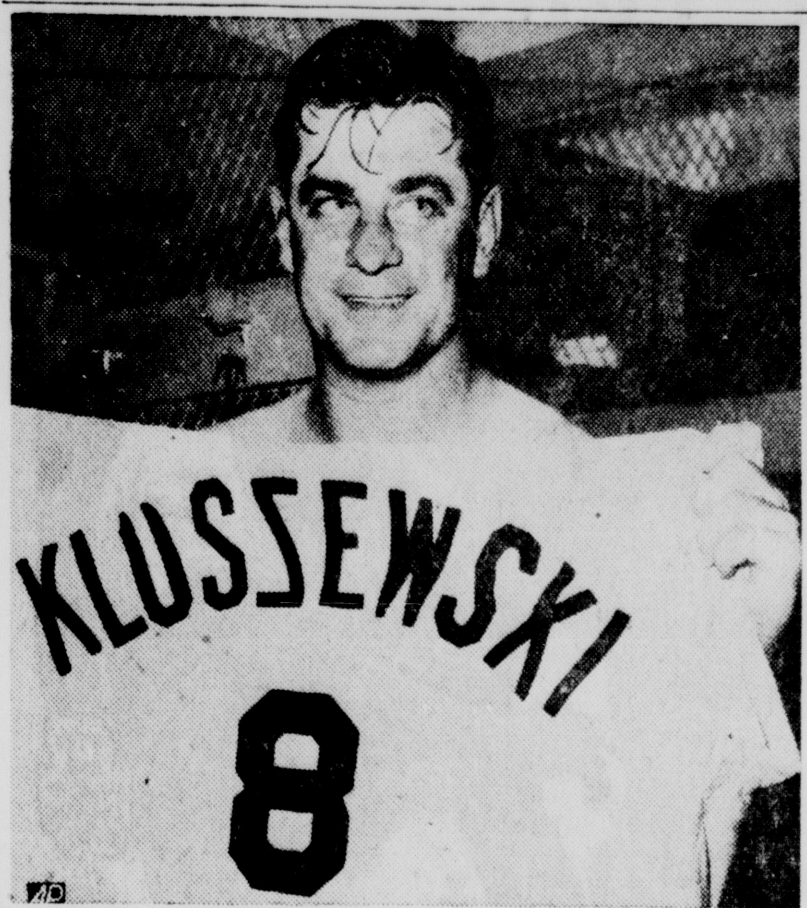

Harvard stretched its winning streak over two years to 13 races in whipping Princeton by 2½ lengths at Lake Carnegie last Saturday.

The Harvard eight, which has five sweepstrikers back from last year, was seeded first for the sprint championships. The Crimson lightweight crew, winner of 24 straight races, was ranked first in its division. The two Harvard crews are defending champs in both weight classes.

There will be 63 crews in all for the combined regatta Saturday, making it the largest one-day college rowing meet ever. There will be competition in freshman and junior varsity divisions in both weight classes.

Here's the way the varsity crews will line up for their heats: Heavyweights: First heat — Princeton, Rutgers, Penn, Navy, Wisconsin, and Dartmouth. Second heat — Harvard, Yale, Boston U., Syracuse, MIT, Columbia and Cornell.

Lightweights: First heat — Columbia, Dartmouth, MIT, Penn, Cornell. Second heat — Navy, Yale, Harvard, Princeton.

ERRORS BY THE SHIRTMAKER—The shirtmaker came up with two errors in the Yankee-White Sox game played in Yankee Stadium May 8 and they were shown to a nationwide TV audience to boot. Ted Kluszewski, the Sox' big first baseman, played in the game with his name misspelled on his shirt—the "Z" backward and an "X" instead of the second "K." But the errors didn't slow down the Sox, who trimmed the Yanks, 8-3, to take over first place. (AP Wirephoto)

Other Clubs Seeking Services of Sawyer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eddie Sawyer, who resigned as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies after one game this year, says he has had some offers from baseball.

Sawyer, contacted at his nearby Wayne home Monday, said he hadn't made up his mind about future plans.

"It probably will be next week before I decide," he added.

Buffalo Kegler 3rd All Events

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Anthony Paul of Buffalo has taken over third place in the all-events division of the New York State Men's Bowling Tournament, and two Buffalo teams have broken into the top five in the team event.

Paul compiled a 2,038 total Monday which featured a 689 in the singles.

Jim Reynard's and Trico Engineering were third and fourth in the team event with 3,180 and 3,172 respectively.

Race Track Funds Due for Hearing

NEW YORK (AP)—Hearings on capital construction funds for harness racing tracks will be held soon by the State Investigation Commission.

Commission Chairman Myles J. Lane declined to give further details Monday but said the hearings would be in the near future.

He said this after a report in the World-Telegram & Sun that a $20,900,000 building contract for Yonkers Raceway in 1956 went to the Yonkers Contracting Co. without competition and on a cost-plus basis.

The newspaper said the investigation was on with a view to possibly saving some of $10,800,000 still earmarked for the Yonkers project.

The law allowing a percentage of pari-mutuel receipts to go for track improvements was repealed last year.

Neal's Homer in Ninth Wins, 7-4

By ED WILKS

Pittsburgh's stumbling, fumbling Pirates dropped their fourth in a row Monday night giving up a pair of unearned runs and losing 7-4 at Los Angeles as Charlie Neal slugged a three-run homer in the ninth that tagged the once unbeatable Elroy Face with his third defeat.

The Bucs now are 1½ games behind idle, first place San Francisco and only one game ahead of Milwaukee's third place Braves, who were rained out at Chicago in the only other NL game scheduled.

Rain also halted a two-game schedule in the American League. Right-hander Camillo Pascual nicked his second three-hit victory as Washington clubbed Kansas City 8-1. The Cleveland at Boston game was postponed.

The Pirates were shut out on one hit for seven innings by Don Drysdale. The Dodgers ace right-hander struck out 13, but gave up two-run homers by Bill Mazeroski and Bob Skinner in the eighth and ninth before reliever Larry Sherry took over.

Sherry Stops Them

Sherry came in with the tie-breaking run on first, struck out Don Hoak and then retired Gino Cimoli on a grounder to end the Bucs rally. Neal's second home run of the season, following a single by Maury Wills, and an intentional walk to Junior Gilliam, got the job done.

It was Sherry's third straight victory in relief.

Bob Friend lasted seven innings for the Bucs before giving way for a pinch-hitter.

Pascual (2-3) struck out 11 and gave up nothing but singles while putting away the fifth three-hitter of his career for Washington. He lost a shutout in the third when the A's scored an unearned run on the first of two hits by Dick Williams, a passed ball and a two-out error by shortstop Billy Conso.

Williams got the A's second hit in the eighth. Jerry Lumpe got the other in the ninth.

The Senators beat Ray Herbert (2-1) with three runs in the first on two walks and singles by Don Dabek, Earl Battey and Reno Bertoia.

Jim Lemon added his sixth home run, tying Cleveland's Woodie Held for the AL lead, and Bob Allison socked his second in the eighth.

Sammy Snead Wins Round Robin Golf

YORBA LINDA, Calif. (AP)—Sammy Snead — to almost nobody's surprise — is the winner of the $50,000 round-robin all-star golf tournament.

He finished playing Sunday, and it looked certain that no one could touch his 13-under-par 203 for the 54-hole competition. No one could. Closest were Jimmy Demaret and Cary Middlecoff, each with 209 at end of play Monday.

Wisconsin Move Bad Blow To Boxing in Colleges

Ex-Yank Grba Sizzles in IL

ELI GRBA is a tough man.

Not only does he have one of the toughest names in baseball to pronounce (it's Gr-ba), but he is giving the hitters in the International League fits trying to make something of his pitching.

The Richmond hurler won his third straight Monday night, 2-1 over Rochester, and ran his earned run average to 0.50 in 36 innings. All other IL activity — Buffalo-Columbus, Miami - Montreal, Havana - Toronto — was rained out.

Grba scattered five hits and struck out eight. He has allowed only two runs—both earned—in four starts and has given only 23 hits. What's more impressive is his 24 strikeouts against only 11 walks, and three complete games, two of which were shutouts.

Hudson Valley Relays Expect 900 Athletes at New Paltz

LIKE BATS OUT OF...

Jimmy Sims in Ace Mile Field On Saturday

With superb performances expected in the Invitational Mile and special 100 yard event, the ninth running of the Hudson Valley Relays Saturday at New Paltz Central School promises to be the largest track and field meet ever staged in this area.

More than 900 schoolboy athletes representing 46 public and private schools will compete in the meet.

Kingston High's record busting Jimmy Sims heads the Mile Invitational field in which all entries have been clocked under 4:50, with several in the 4:30 range.

Three 10-second entries are slated for the 100 yard dash, but it is not expected that the all-time record of 9.6 hung up by Hudson's Andrew Spedries in 1959 will be threatened.

The meet, starting at 12:30 noon includes the hop, step and jump for the first time and such fixtures as the shot put, discus, high jump, pole vault, Track events include the 180 yard low hurdles, a junior high 440 yard relay, and varsity relays at 440 yards, 880 yards, 1 mile, 1 1/4 mile, 2 mile, 4 mile, 8 mile and two miles.

Class Three Group

Class III (1-199 competition will feature entries from Carmel, Croton-Harmon, Delaware Valley, Granville, Haldane, Highland, Irvington, John Jay, Ontario Central, Pearl River, Red Hook, Roscliff-Jensen, Spackenkill, Tappan Zee, Wallkill, Warwick, Washingtonville, and host New Paltz.

Competing in Class II (200-449 boys) will be Beacon, Bishop Gibbons, Cardinal Farley, Chatham, Cornwall, Highland Falls, Hudson, Liberty, Monroe-Woodbury, Peekskill, Port Jervis, Saugerties High, Sleepy Hollow, Valley Central.

Fordham Prep and New Rochelle are listed, along with Kingston High and Poughkeepsie in the Class I competition (450 or more). Others are: Arlington, Linton of Schenectady, Middletown, Newburgh Academy, Nyack, Ossining, South Junior High of Newburgh, Spring Valley and Wappingers Central.

Eight in Sprint

Eight of the fastest high school sprinters in the mid-Hudson area will vie in the Invitational 100, one of the highlights of the meet. The following runners were invited to compete on the basis of their outstanding victories: Ralph Bastel, New Rochelle; Nesbitt Dula, Linton; Dan Keller, Chatham; John Ladue, Haldane; Charles Lewis, Newburgh; Sanders Matthews, Highland Falls; T. J. Oliver, Suffolk; Edward Walker, Nyack. Louis Mangolia of Highland is listed as an alternate.

Boys participating in the Invitational Mile, besides Kingston's Jimmy Sims include: Ron Bauer, Delaware Valley; Richard Coleman, Middletown; Jack Daily, Tappan Zee; John Dockstader, Newburgh; Terry Evans, Peekskill; Baron Faustlin, Linton; Charles McKenna, Arlington. Robert Hoffman of Highland Falls is the alternate.

Fair weather will guarantee competitors and spectators the finest track and field meet ever staged in the Hudson Valley area.

Rhinebeck Driver Held Second Time On Drunk Charge

A 27-year-old Rhinebeck resident, accused of driving an automobile while intoxicated after a highway collision, waived preliminary examination Monday morning before Justice of the Peace Clarence Traver, who referred the case to the Dutchess County grand jury.

Trooper George Dufresne, who made the arrest said the defendant, Stephen G. Bridges, had previously been convicted of a similar charge in Dutchess County in 1957, and the pending charge is a felony.

Dufresne said he investigated a complaint that an automobile was traveling on Route 9 in an erratic manner and overtook the car driven by Bridges. Prior to his apprehension, Bridges vehicle sideswiped a southbound car operated by Albert Feller, 23, of Tivoli, authorities said.

John Tucker Makes College Who's Who

John Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Tucker of Bellefonte, N. Y., is a member of the 1960 Who's Who of St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pa., according to The Review, official newspaper of the college. They formerly resided in this city, Mrs. Tucker being the former Mary J. Schatzel of 12 Ardley Street.

John, who recently made the Dean's List, intends to teach and coach in a secondary school on Long Island next year.

A senior history major, John belongs to the Student Senate, acting as official parliamentarian. He also is vice president of the Monogram Club and is assistant editor of the school newspaper.

He played varsity basketball and throughout his four years engaged in the entire intramural sports program.

OPENING OF RECRUITING OFFICE DUE—Mayor Edwin F. Radol today proclaimed the week of May 13 to 20 United States Army Recruiting Week and noted dedication on the opening day of new recruiting quarters in the Municipal Auditorium. A glow-type sign to be placed outside the building is held by M/Sgt. Theodore S. Wasielewski, Kingston recruiter, and Mayor Radol, as Capt. Harold P. Goodrich, commanding officer of the Northeast New York recruiting area, stationed at Albany, holds notice of the dedication rites. Miss Bonnie Jo Marquis, of Huntington, L. I., as Miss New York State, U. S. Army officers, recruiters from 19 counties, and local officials are due to attend the dedication. Open house will be held from 5 to 9 p. m., May 13 and 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., May 14. In a coronation on opening day Miss Marquis will become Miss Honorary New York State Army Recruiter. (Freeman photo)

Rochester Schoolboy Star Real All-Round Sensation

Rosendale, Tillson News Youth Program Sought for Town

Ernest Hopper, principal of Tillson School and recreational supervisor, presented a proposal for a recreational program for the Town of Rosendale during 1960 and 1961 at the May meeting of the Rosendale Town Board.

The program would include baseball, basketball and a teenage program of dances. The town would contribute also.

Wilfred LaVoie of High Falls Park, acting as spokesman, presented a petition with 146 signatures requesting that the town board maintain Mossy Brook Road from Coxen Creek to High Falls Park, widening the road, putting a guard rail complete length of the road and resurfacing. The matter was referred to the Superintendent of Highways, John Markle, who was not present. Supervisor George Mollenhauer reported that some work will be done in High Falls Park this year.

It was reported that a town power grader had been obtained to help improve the town roads. A report was made on a meeting held with Donald Farmer, engineer for the town and county roads April 20 at which Supervisor Mollenhauer, Justice Edward Brodsky, and Councilman Arthur Hahn and Arthur Merrihew discussed town roads. The roads were also inspected by the group and some are being considered for possible improvement under the ten year town highway improvement program.

The town clerk was authorized to purchase flags for the town cemeteries to be placed on Memorial Day.

The following Bloomington volunteer firemen was appointed fire police: Joseph Assion, Henry Greenwald, Charles Reilly, Fred Sauer, Howard Slover and Frank Lonnetti.

Democrats Meet May 16

The regular meeting of the Rosendale Democratic Club, Inc., will be held Monday, May 16, at 8 p. m. at the club room on Main Street, Rosendale. Plans for a chicken barbecue will be completed. The barbecue will be held on Sunday, June 19.

Food Sales Planned

The St. Peter's Rosendale Rosary Altar Society purchased a Rosary banner recently.

Plans for the coming month were made at their May meeting. A food sale will be held Saturday, June 25, at 10:30 a. m. on the church lawn. The society will sponsor a coffee cake sale every second Sunday of the month through September. The next coffee cake sale will be held Sunday, June 12, in front of the school hall after the 9 a. m. Mass.

The next monthly meeting of the society will be on Sunday, June 5, at the St. Peter's School Hall after the 9 o'clock Mass.

C of C Organizes

James McKeown, president of the newly formed Rosendale Chamber of Commerce, selected the following committees at the May meeting of the group held at the Rosendale Reformed Church.

Traffic, Arthur Mulligan; membership, Jack Gilmartin; sanitation, Joseph Bianco; and historian, Ferdinand Fiedler.

Anyone interested in joining the group to help in the improving the community of Rosendale may contact Robert Ryan of The Duffy Agency, Rosendale, for reservations for the June 6 luncheon meeting to be held at the Rosendale Reformed Church Hall at 12:30 p. m.

Al Kundi of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce will address the group at that time.

Tillson Vols Meet

Members of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company will meet 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Tillson firehouse.

Red Hook Names Committee of 9 For School Study

A committee of nine persons, who will serve as an advisory committee to the Red Hook Central School district Board of Education was appointed Monday night by the board, to make a study of the needs for a new school and report with recommendations at a later date.

One source said the Thompson site, which previously was the subject of spirited debate with proponents and opponents of the $1,495,000 bond issue for a new junior-senior high school, indicated that site may not be considered in future recommendations. The bond issue was defeated on Saturday, April 30 for a fourth time in less than two years.

Appointed to the advisory committee were, Dr. George Michael, chairman, who was elected a member of the Board of Education at the recent election; Mrs. O. T. Cookingham Jr., Dr. Louis Dillman, S. R. Tremper Sr., Philip Newmark, Hayes Myers, Douglas Froer, Donald Norton and Col. Walter Warner, retired, U. S. Army.

The committee will meet soon to map out the procedure for the survey.

Johansson's New Style Reveals Big Right Hand

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—There's a "new" Ingemar Johansson training for defense of his world heavyweight championship high in this Catskill Mountain resort. No longer is Johansson the easy-going, take-it-slow fighter that he

Monday and this time he isn't hiding the right.

"I never saw him so fast," exclaimed Artie Towne of New York, one of his sparring partners. "Those rights, they were coming very fast."

Both Towne and Will Johnson went two rounds with the champion and both took dozens of stinging rights to the head.

"Johansson was a flat-footed boxer when I stepped into the ring against him for the first time last year," observed Towne. "He's a changed man now."

While he didn't cut loose with the full force of his blows in his first sparring session, Johansson left no doubt as to how he intends to operate against Patterson in their return on June 20 at New York's Polo Grounds.

Rapids to Meet May 12

AMERICA'S TWO NEWEST LOWER-PRICED CARS

MERCURY

NEWEST IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

Now Mercury prices start below the top low-price name V-8's. It's a lot better built, better looking and better riding, too. If you're buying a low-price car, get the better one, this one.

COMET

NEWEST IN THE COMPACT FIELD

It's the first compact car with fine-car styling, offers lots of standard "extras" the others don't. Yet it's priced with or below the other compacts. A sellout sensation from the day of its introduction. Come see it now.

Job Stress Small Factor for Ills

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Is your job getting you down?

Well, a psychiatrist said today, people are usually very quick to blame their jobs for unhappiness, insomnia, depression, heart pains and other ills.

But more often their troubles stem from home or social life, or something within themselves, which then interfere with their work, he said.

Only About 10 PC

Several studies indicate about 10 per cent of people have symptoms severe enough to interfere with their work, Dr. Alan A. McLean, International Business Machines Corp., New York, told the New York State Medical Society's annual convention.

"We have heard that 'overwork' caused Mr. Jones to develop an acute schizophrenic reaction."

"We read that 'your next promotion can kill you'."

And many times, McLean added, we hear that job pressure and tension has "caused" insomnia, loss of appetite, high blood pressure, angina or heart pains, and brain strokes.

But psychiatrists acting as consultants to industry report only a very small percentage of employees with psychiatric symptoms are actually sick because of their jobs, he said.

McLean reported on a study of 24 men, ranging from skilled craftsmen to corporate officials, who become emotionally ill. They were in their early 50s on the average, had been with their firms—seven different firms in the study—an average of 25 years.

All became ill after some change in their jobs, including promotions, demotions, transfers, changes in work production, change of a boss to whom the man was accustomed.

Under Other Stress

But in each case, the man had been under some other stress, three to six months before the job change, McLean said. Some had been physically ill, others under emotional stress at home, in social life, or financially.

Each man was the kind who was dependent upon his company, who seemed to need a strong guiding hand, and appeared to be looking for emotional support from his company, he said. The job change came along when he was under stress.

McLean concludes that factors connected with the job don't seem to trigger most symptoms of emotional disturbances which are seen on the job.

Perlman Urges Five Steps to Save RR Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the New York Central Railroad today suggested five steps he said would put railroads on an equal economic footing with other forms of transportation.

The official, Alfred E. Perlman, made his recommendations in a statement filed with the House Subcommittee on Transportation and Aeronautics. To save railroad passenger service, Perlman said, the government should:

1. Repeal the transportation tax, now scheduled to be cut from 10 per cent to 5 per cent July 1. He said it affects adversely all common carriers.

2. End direct federal subsidies to airlines.

3. Stop indirect subsidies to competing carriers. He said the government should stop pouring money into airway systems and airports and find out whether commercial users of highways are paying a fair share of the cost.

4. Require federal agencies such as the post office and department of defense to use rail services.

5. End what he called discriminatory taxation and unrealistic regulation.

Agree on Bid to Ike

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The South Korean National Assembly today agreed to invite President Eisenhower to address it during his June 22 visit to Korea.

Settlement Sought On Rocky's Ranch

NEW YORK (AP)—Efforts are under way to reach a friendly settlement on the fate of one of the Rockefeller ranches in Venezuela.

A Rockefeller spokesman said Monday that Fred Johnson, manager of Palo Gordo Ranch, will meet Thursday with representatives of the country's land reform institute in Caracas.

Venezuela has announced plans to buy or expropriate New York Gov. Rockefeller's 5,500-acre holding in northeast Venezuela.

An official said the land is needed for an irrigation project and settlement of peasant families.

Gov. Rockefeller also owns two larger ranches in Venezuela.

Palo Gordo has been used to develop a disease-resistant strain of rice to supplement the country's starch-shy agricultural economy.

CIT Most Secret Department of U.S. Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency is one of the biggest, and at the same time one of the most hush-hush, of the scores of federal agencies in Washington.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev says Francis G. Powers, the American pilot downed on a flight over the Soviet Union is a CIA agent.

As it has before and probably will continue to do in the future, CIA in saying nothing about the U.S. airman. It neither confirms nor denies that it had any hand in the affair. It remains as mum as the sphinx.

There is a reason for this: For CIA to give any hint of its activities, even to deny anything, might give out clues that would harm CIA's effectiveness.

It is widely known—though not officially stated—that CIA has undercover intelligence agents around the world. In Washington, the agency directs its far-flung operations, assesses the information gathered, and reports it to President Eisenhower and other appropriate government officials.

The agency employs thousands and spends millions of dollars yearly. Yet its activities are kept so secret that its appropriations are concealed in the money bills for other agencies and the number of its employees is not given out publicly.
